ARCATA POST CALLS ASST. CITY MGR.

Assistant City manager Phillip Brown announced this week he will foresake the harried urban existence for a community where fishing and hunting are the main industries.

Brown will become city manager of Arcata (pop. 5,600) on April 16. He has worked for the City of Daly City four and a half years under three city managers.

"Needless to say, I'm pretty happy," Brown announced smilingly.

Brown called his stay in Daly City a "broadening experience" and said he will be leaving with mixed emotions after having made several friends here.

Arcata is 10 miles north of Ureka, the fishing and hunting capital of northern California. The town is the seat of Humbodt State College and is influenced, naturally by the college atmosphere. The city works with the college on many projects, among them a joint agreement on the new sewage treatment plant where filtering and wildlife planting experimentation is tried. Six hundred acres of redwood forest are at the city's doorstep.

Brown, 31, is married and is the father of two daughters. He resides at 80 Rockford avenue, Daly City. In 1957, after receiving his degree in business administration at San Francisco State College and further graduate work, he started as administrative assistant to the then city manager, Howard Stites. He has worked under City Manager Ed Frank for two years.

Brown said his work in Daly City enabled him "to have an advantage over every other assistant city manager in California" because the city has changed so much during his stay.

Brown has had a background of exposure to public service since his father was chief of San Francisco station, U. S. Pure Food and Drug Administration, of which he was one of the original members.

Brown left college in February, 1951, in order to serve in the United States Navy during the Korean conflict. He was attached to the U.S.S. Bremerton, a heavy cruiser, for 18 months and participated in its first cruise to Korea in 1952. His highest rating during this service was Hospital Corpsman third class.

Cemetery Offers Are Rejected

"Nice work if you can get it."

And cemetery workers demands for a 65 cent per hour first year increase are just that, according to John Cantwell, labor counselor for the Associated Cemteries.

Cantwell reported that negotiations to end the three week old strike of AFL-CIO Cemetery and Greens Attendants Local 265 bogged down Thursday, March 15, when union leaders refused to arbitrate or accept the offers of Associated Cemeteries.

Strikers are being offered a 15 cent per hour first year increase, with step increases of 10 cents the next year and 7½ cents the following year.

The Cemetery Association also offered to arbitrate all issues, including salaries and pay the costs of arbitration. These offers were rejected.

Cantwell said the association "would like to see a settlement made soon. We made an offer last Thursday," he stated.

The union is standing behind its original offer made last January.

Cemetery workers claim they should earn more than the present $105 per week. They want $131. They argue that new grave-digging machines require more skill and threaten to put men out of work.

Unionists say most of their time is spent in building and grounds maintenance and that grave-digging is but a small part of their work.

The strike will delay some 275 burials and cremations per month. In 1956, the last strike by the grave-diggers, nearly 1,000 bodies had been stored by the time the strike was settled.

Patrolman Saves Family From Fumes

Patrolman Tom Culley of Daly City rescued four members of a family Sunday, March 18, when their house became filled with carbon dioxide by a freak mechanical accident.

The engine of the family's car had continued running, pouring carbon monoxide into the house, after the ignition key had been removed.

Daly City police said they received a call for help from 53 Perita drive at 3 a.m. As Patrolman Culley walked up the front steps of the house, Craig Kuesta, 36, an automotive salesman, collapsed at his feet.

The officer found Kuesta's wife, Nicole, also, 36, in bed and dragged her out. Then he found the couple's two children, Cherie, 13, and Brian, 9, and carried them to fresh air. All four were reported in satisfactory condition at Junipero Serra Hospital in Colma.

Campaign Tightens As Council Election Nears

The race-horse field of ten candidates for the three city council seat vacancies is coming out of the back-stretch and readying for the final drive to election date, April 10.

During the final three weeks, the campaign threatens to become slightly more strenuous, and certainly more interesting, as the candidates move from the first round poster battles into face-to-face battles before the citizenry.

The first encounter is set for April 2 at the Westlake Improvement Association. Association Secretary Bob Gunthorp extended invitations to each of the ten men to meet before the homeowners' group on that evening, and all are expected to attend.

Each man will receive five minutes to present points from his platform to the audience and then he will receive questions from the floor.

Seven issues are receiving most of the attention in this campaign. They are: (1) taxes, (2) annexation, (3) education, (4) transportation, (5) city charter, (6) progress, and (7) recreation.

The three incumbents — St. Clair, Dennis and DeBernardi —point to the achievements of the present council. The challengers are stressing the issues. Harry Farber, Paris Simmons and Sheldon Prezant have made much of political independence and caution with the tax dollar; the N-O-W trio — Noonan, O'Haire and Walker— campaigning as the Citizens Committee for Better Government, has been pushing ever since the Callan annexation defeat for defeat of the Christen Lands annexation; George Kirchhubel has given much attention to transportation improvement.

It is not to say that each of the candidates does not have opinions on all of the issues, but each has stressed different areas.

The WIA meet will provide the voters with an opportunity to sound each man.

Some of the issues, taxes and education for example, come up in every election on every level of government. But each has its local variation. The property tax in Daly City, $1.48 during the current year to run the city government, has been climbing during the past years. Yet it is in line with similar cities of this size, and has not been rising at an unusual rate. The sales tax initiation in 1959 is said to have cost one of its council advocates his seat, for he lost in the next election. Yet the sales tax was passed on the promise that it would lighten the property tax burden.

Improved education is probably the goal of every citizen, yet it becomes a local issue because the city council must work with the Jefferson school districts on some matters of education.

Those are the general remarks. The issues and their local aspect follows:

(1) Taxes. This is the perennial question. Can the city do

Warning Heard On Juggling Water Funds

City engineer William Chapman March 15 put out a warning to the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce against "any group which would reduce city taxes and make up for that loss of revenue by transferring funds out of the water department."

The water department, he said, is an important fire fighting facility. He said the national board of fire underwriters allows many deficiency points to public works and water department facilities.

Chapman noted that four years ago the Daly City water system was "in very poor condition. The water department was operating on a string."

"All the water funds were being tranferred into the general fund. Now because the water department is able to contain almost all of its revenues we are placing approximately $300,000 into capital outlay each year."

Westmoor High Youth Slashed

A 16-year-old Westmoor High School student was slashed in the leg with a switchblade knife when he tried to stand off a car load of Negro youths who accosted him as he walked home from school Monday evening, police reported.

Police said Steven Pressley, 1449 Southgate, was walking home carrying his school books when some youths jumped out of an auto and tried to force him into their car. He refused and tried to push aside a tall youth who slashed him with his knife in the upper thigh. Officers said a white girl was driving the auto.

Police could find no motive for the incident.

School Board Action

At the March 19 meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School Board, the trustees:

Approved leaves of absence for two teachers, Mrs. California Koenig of Daniel Webster School and Mrs. Rita White of M. Pauline Brown.

Considered procedure for naming the new school site now being acquired in the Crocker Estate. Action postponed.

Voted to go to bid on the new Franklin Delano Roosevelt School as a total project in October. The alternative was to accept partial bids at an earlier date.

Granted schoolroom use to two private organizations—Greek Language School and Job's Daughters.

Granted the Doelger Corporation permission to use school district property, on which Doelger keeps a stockpile of loam, on condition that the corporation assume liability.

Voted to cut summer sessions from five to four weeks, and to consider two four-week sessions if the need warrants.

Elected to consider a $500 grant to the County Historical Association when the budget is presented.

City Mgr. Defends Tax Rate

City Manager Edward Frank spoke out March 15 against what he called "a bombardment" of talk of lowering taxes. He spoke at the March 15 meeting of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Frank said that because the city government is so close to the people it seems the city always "gets the pressure" of lowering the taxes. "But at the same time," he added, "we are the first ones who are asked to provide more and more services."

He stated that the tax rate, for the services rendered, is "equitable and is not high, based on the assessed valuation.

29th Firemen's Ball Set For War Memorial

The Widows' and Orphans' Association of the Daly City fire department will hold its 29th annual ball at the War Memorial building on Saturday, May 5.

Your continued support in this worthy cause will be greatly appreciated. Music for your enjoyment and dancing pleasure will be furnished by Jimmy Blass and his orchestra.

Proceeds of the event will go to the Widows' and Orphans' Association.

Price of the tickets is $1 and they may be obtained at the city's fire stations or from members of the Widows' and Orphans' Association of your fire department when they make their annual house to house appeal.

Polio Shots March 26 At Shopping Center

Broadmoor American Legion Post 824 will resume its polio shot program on March 26.

All shots will cost only $1, whether they are first, second, third or booster.

Parents of children who have received notices from schools may have them dated at the time the shots are given.

A mobile unit will be at the mall in the Westlake Shoping Center from 9 a. m. until noon and at the parking area between Alec's and the Serra Bowl from 1 to 4 p. m.

This service is offered on a first come, first served basis, so plan to arrive early at either station. For information, call Mannie Broner, PL 5-0078.

Eye Damaged

HOODS ATTACK YOUTHS

A group of teen-age hoods jumped two area boys as they emerged from the Serra theater early Sunday morning, and beat them so badly that one may suffer permanent damage to an eye.

Thomas R. McFarland, 15, 2595 Princeton avenue, San Bruno, was leaving the movie shortly after midnight along with Allen Haynes, 15, 326 Higate avenue, Daly City, and a teen-age girl friend when a carload of older teen-agers pulled up to the curb, leaped out and attacked the boys.

McFarland was first knocked to the pavement by one of the assailants. Then the rest of the boys poured out of the auto and attacked both McFarland and Haynes.

Orese Rocchi, 54, of 2710 Juniepro Serra boulevard, the manager of the theater was also hit when he attempted to intervene.

McFarland was taken to Junipero Serra hospital for treatment of a serious injury to his right eye. He was then transferred to Peninsula hospital where attendants report his condition is satisfactory and that it is likely that he will not lose sight in his damaged right eye.

SM Faces School Cut

As a result of the loss in the Feb. 27 tax election, the San Mateo City Elementary School District voted last week to suspend summer school activity.

Dr. John Andes, superintendent, told the board of trustees that he is further considering chopping 20 teachers off the staff, eliminating after-school athletics, reducing cafeteria services and restricting school-bus use.

Dr. Andes said he is also considering requiring all children within walking distance of school to go home for lunch, thus eliminating need for lunch-time supervision.

The San Mateo city citizenry defeated a school bond proposal of $4,500,000 and a tax increase of 68 cents. Immediately after the election, spokesmen attributed the loss to over-confidence on the part of the proponents and a resulting small turn-out at the polls. Only 7,800 voted in the city with 35,000 registered. There are 12,000 children in the elementary school district.

SM County Needs Tax Collector

Lorraine A. Dickey, San Mateo County tax assessor since 1955 and a member of the collector's office since May 1, 1920, has left her job.

Miss Dickey wandered into Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney's office back in 1920 looking for a job as the assistant county collecter. McSweeney hired her, but said at the time, "This girl is not the type who will stay long." He suggested she was inclined to matrimony.

Last week—42 years later—Miss Dickey announced she would not seek re-election, but was retiring to travel.

"I've served my time," said the white-haired public servant, "and I'd rather like to see a younger person take over. After all these years, I think I am entitled to a little pleasure on my own.'

She recalled that she was the only regular employee of the office when she first started, and that the annual collection amounted to about $3,000,000. Today the staff of 14 handles a collection of about $72,000,000 annually.

Miss Dickey served as the late Mr. McSweeney's assistant for 23 years, and then served under the late Ralph MacArthur until his death in 1955.

Miss Dickey is the daughter of the late Joseph and Mary Dickey, Redwood City pioneers. Her father was superintendent of streets in Redwood City.

Election Registration Deadline Set

John A. Bruning, San Mateo county clerk, announced this week that voters registration for the June 5 primary election would have a closing date of midnight, April 12.

It is believed that a sizable number of residents of northern San Mateo county have not as yet registered and they must do so to vote in the June primary and the November general election.

Bruning said that if you have moved, or failed to vote in the past two primary elections, you must re-register to vote. The voters registration law provides, in part, that you must be at least 21 years old, a resident of the state of California one year and San Mateo county for 90 days as of the next election to qualify.

When registering, all naturalized citizens must have and present their papers at the time of registration.

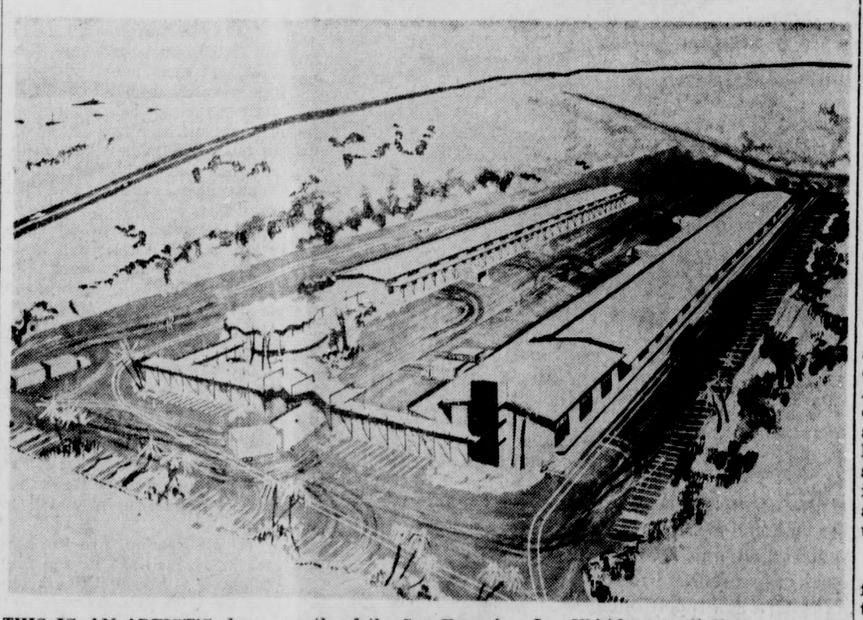
New SSF Produce Terminal



THIS IS AN ARTIST'S drawing of the new $2,700,000 Golden Gate Produce Terminal to be built in South San Francisco. The facilities will be located on a 16-acre site next to Bayshore Freeway, just north of the San Francisco International Airport. One of the most significant industry relocation projects in recent years, the produce terminal will bring a $25,000,000 annual industry to San Mateo County. With negotiations recently completed by the real estate firm of Louis Poletti, ground has been broken and construction is set to begin immediately.

FIREMEN WORK OUT AT HOSPITAL SITE

White capped nuns watched excitedly and crowds stood by March 15 to see Daly City firemen in the limelight as they burned two homes at the proposed site of Mary's Help Hospital in St. Francis Heights.

A Coast Guard helicopter staged a dramatic pickup rescue to start the festivities. After Daly City firemen recruits and volunteers started a roaring fire in a three-story home on top of the hill, they started another roaring blaze in a recently occupied home and then proceeded to keep it under control.

New Methods

The burnings helped train firemen in new methods and techniques of home fire-fighting and rescue work. Dummies were used to simulate life-saving procedures.

This "Operation Arson" had legal sanction, authorized by the Daly City Council and conducted under supervision of Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy. Mayor Robert St. Clair, Councilmen Edward Dennis and Frank Pacelli and other city officials were present to watch the demonstration.

Post Grad Work

In the words of Chief Kennedy, the homes became "a temporary school for a post graduate course in proper methods of fire fighting and rescue work."

Others who witnessed the demonstration were Sister Hermine, administrator of the present Mary's Help Hospital in the Mission, and members of her staff; fire chiefs and officials of other north San Mateo County communities, which will be served by the new hospital.

The fire in the three-story dwelling was the main testing center. Dummies simulating human beings were placed in upstairs rooms. The fire was

Navy Advice Is Stay In School

Practically every male student today, even at the grammar school level, knows that he faces a mandatory military obligation, prescribed by law, of at least six years duration upon reaching the age of 18 and one-half years. What many fail to see is the role played by education in facing and fulfilling this obligation.

Naturally there are places in a military organization for the man with an incomplete education — providing he is qualified otherwise, but it is obvious that he will have to serve in one of the less technical areas. The first and best breaks will go to the men capable of absorbing large amounts of specialized information in the shortest possible time.

The technological steps being taken by the Armed Forces today exceed even the wildest dreams of military men of only a generation ago. Nobody knows exactly what lies ahead for your generation, but it is known that you are going to be called on to assume responsibilities, to operate and maintain equipment that isn't even being thought about today.

A long view on your part, looking beyond this year — and the next, is all we ask of you now. Staying in school and finishing your education is the best possible preparation known today for the unknowns of tomorrow.

Stick with it — get your high school diploma, go to college if you can. It may be the wisest move you'll ever make and certainly is a strong move in the right direction.

Really work at getting your education, get everything you can out of your schooling — just coasting along is not enough. In the meantime, though, stop by your nearest United States Navy recruiting office and ask for a free copy of the booklet, "Stay in School."

3 One-Act Plays Set By Players

The Daly City Players get rolling again this week-end when they take over the War Memorial Building for their presentations of three interesting and controversial one-act plays by twentieth century American playwrights.

Set to go at 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings will be "Aria Da Capo," by Edna St. Vincent Millay; "The Lady of Larkspur Lotion," by Tennessee Williams; and "Impromptu," by Tad Mosel.

The plays are under the direction of William Heran, and feature Sarita Kronquest, Dave Crommie, Lee Williams, Allen Miller, William Hanna, Bonnie Helmer, Danya Rookard and Karen Crommie in the cast.

This is one of the most ambitious performances that the Players have attempted. Rehearsals have been in progress for many weeks to capture the subtlety and force found in these modern playwrights.

Tickets will be available at the box office of the War Memorial on both Friday and Saturday evenings. Admission is $1.

The War Memorial Building is located in Daly City on Mission and Alp streets.

READY FOR THE "FASHIONABLE A-FAIR" set by the Sunshine Gardens Women's Club of South San Francisco are (left to right) Mrs. Hank Haley, Mrs. Cal Larsen, Mrs. Don Schumacher, Mrs. Richard Arlie and Mrs. Clint Olsen. The fashion-luncheon affair is set for March 31 at the Hilton Inn.

"Fashion Affair" Set By Sunshine Gardens

Fashion will go to the fair and on into spring with ease and elegance this season. The Sunshine Gardens Women's Club of South San Francisco is proud to announce its sixth annual fashion show-luncheon on March 31 at the Hilton Inn to benefit the club's scholarship fund.

With the theme, "A Fashionable A-Fair," saluting the Seattle World's Fair of 1962, the Patio Shops of San Bruno and Burlingame will present a collection of new spring costumes that will win compliments at the fair, in the Easter Parade, or at any special occasion when you'll want to look your loveliest.

Modeling the fresh crop of new fashions will be Mrs. Ray Fross, Mrs. Hank Haley, Mrs. Herman Katz, Mrs. Cal Larsen, Mrs. Noran Mahon, Mrs. Clint Olson, Mrs. Don Schumacher, Mrs. Jack Shalabba, Mrs. Edward Tybuec and Mrs. Richard Arlie.

Showing off the latest in children's clothes from Melart's of Hillsdale will be Ellen Kerrigan, Diane Tyler, Terry Gelini and Michael Haley.

Tickets are $3.50 per person. For further information, contact Mrs. C. Smith, 382 Forest View drive.

Area Street Set To Close

Lyell street, between Bosworth street and Cayuga avenue, will be closed to traffic for approximately six months commencing on or about March 15 for the construction of a large sewer line followed by the reconstruction of Bosworth street where it crosses beneath San Jose avenue, as a part of Southern Freeway construction operations.

All traffic presently using O'Shaughnessy boulevard from the Twin Peaks area traveling to Alemany boulevard via Bosworth and Lyell streets, will be detoured from Lyell to Rotteck street (one block east) between Bosworth street and Cayuga avenue.

Rotteck street will be converted to one way traffic, southbound, during this period.

assessed valuations per capita in the state of California."

Giving an example, he said that the per capita tax rate in Daly City is approximately $1,200 as compared with $2,400 in South San Francisco and $3,300 in Redwood City.

Frank said that the state has a limitation of $1 for general government and, in addition, there is a tax for the library, parks, recreation, retirement and bond issues. All of this comes to a total of $1.48.

"For the $1.48, the community receives 24-hour services, such as police, fire, public works."

Frank stated that Daly City services are "comparable with any city of our size; and in many cases we feel they are better."

what should be done without raising taxes? This issue touches on some of the others. Can, for example, new land be annexed without an increased tax burden?

(2) Annexation. This has been a controversy ever since the special election was called in 1960 and the electorate defeated the Callan annexation proposal. The present controversy centers around the Christen property. If it were brought in would the tax rate go up — or down?

(3) Education. How can the City Council work more effectively with the Jefferson school districts to promote the most effective educational system?

(4) Transportation. There are two main points here. The first concerns more adequate bus service from all parts of Daly City to San Francisco. The second involves proposals to build an inter-urban route between Daly City, San Bruno, South San Francisco and San Francisco.

(5) Charter Form of Government. The question is to have or not to have a city charter. There is feeling on both sides. For the most part, the candidates seem to favor the idea of a charter.

(6) Progress. This seems to be a matter of keeping Daly City among the leading California cities. This issue actually involves all the others. The question asked is: What can be done to make Daly City a better place in which to live?

(7) Recreation. Are the recreational facilities in the city adequate? Are facilities keeping up with growth?

The Improvement Association meeting begins at 8 p. m. in the auditorium at 95 South Mayfair.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

Here we go again! We're on our one-woman crusade appealing to the "powers that be" to schedule fashion shows on television during the daytime. What brought us on our soap box again was last week over NBC, KRON-TV was another special "color day" with most of the day and evening devoted to color programs of every sort except a fashion show. As we have reiterated at least 101 times in this column, fashions are made for color—there is simply no more effective use of color on television with universal appeal to women than a fashion show.

Women thoroughly enjoy fashion shows. We only need to watch the enthusiastic turnouts at the many shows held each day by club groups throughout the Bay Area. Look at the success of women's magazines completely devoted to fashions. For that matter, fashions are reported in almost every news story where a woman is involved. For instance, considerable news space in the papers has been taken up by reporting what Mrs. Kennedy is wearing each day on her visit to India.

We would like to see a weekly fashion telecast originating in San Francisco, known throughout the world as the city of smartly dressed women. Also San Francisco fashion designers occupy an extremely important place in the world of fashion.

How about it, gentlemen?

If If you have a little preschooler in your home, do tune in on the delightful children's program over KQED titled "Singing, Listening, Doing" (Wednesday, 1:10 p.m.) with teacher Dolores D. Dudley. Skillfully produced and most entertaining for the tricycle set, it cannot help but inspire youngsters to participate in the show right along with the hostess. This program is another fine example of a Channel 9 show which helps inspire children to be "doers" instead of just "viewers."

NEW PROGRAMS — Over KGO-TV, two new series, "Formula for Fitness" (week days, 6:45 a.m.), a program describing physical fitness activities at various schools throughout the Bay Area, and debuting April 1 at 2:45 p.m., a new informational community affairs series, "Inside 7."

Fred Adams Is New President Of W'lake Club

Fred Adams was elected unit president for the 1962-63 school year of the Westmoor High School PTA by unanimous vote of the Westmoor organization. Mrs. Benjamin Pulsifer, unit president, presided at the meeting held in the little theater.

Adams served the PTA unit as vice president in charge of programs for the past year. Mrs. Roy Milam was elected first vice president; Glenn South, principal of Westmoor High School, honorary vice president; Mrs. Armand Carrara, recording secretary; Mrs. William Cordano, auditor; Mrs. Herbert Quandit, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Baker, historian, and Mrs. George Johnson, financial secretary.

Girl Scout Troop 112 presented the flag and led in the pledge of allegiance. The highlight of the evening's business session was the historian's report and the wonderful entertainment presented by the Girls glee club and the mixed choir, under the guidance of Mr. Loeffler and Mr. Ardis. The glee club presented "Catch a Falling Star," directed by Patty Connal, "Christopher Robin" and "By the Light of the Silvery Moon." The mixed group presented the Negro spiritual "Dry Bones," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Oklahoma."

Mrs. Roy Milam reported that the final count down on PTA members for the year totaled 489 paid up. Following the meeting and program, parents and friends were invited to the cafeteria to join in a short hospitality get together for coffee and cookies.

Firemen

started in a downstairs room. As smoke started seeping through the cracks and windows, the trainees went to work.

Men In Action

They entered the smoke-filled rooms with various new-type smoke masks and a variety of hose streams ranging from booster lines to 1½ and 2½ inch hoses. A special high pressure system mounted on a truck was used to test its effectiveness as the blaze was well underway. It smothers certain type fires and is more effective than a solid direct stream, according to Chief Kennedy.

With the doors and windows locked from the inside, the firemen used special "forcible entry tools" to spring doors and windows without battering them in. The chief said the old fashioned method of "chopping" a door down and battering in window sashes is not only "out-dated but often unnecessary," and this method poses a hazard to rescue work. Persons being carried to safety, and even the firemen themselves, are often injured by splintered doors and broken glass. (Bugs Baer once said: "Imagine the fireman's surprise when he discovered the front door he had just chopped down was at his own home.")

The firemen recruits and volunteers were also equipped with new-type jacks, bars and Porta power tools, power saws, axes (when needed), and the latest cutting tools for entering a building through shingles or sheet metal roofs.

The dummies in the upper rooms were carried out safely through pressure-sprung doors and windows.

"Many drains like this in the city are almost completely closed by encrustation. These are the mains that must be replaced. Of course, the cost is very high. We need every penny we can get. Certainly we can't afford reverting to the general fund."

The 1960 Daly City water report, he said, showed $1½ million dollars needed to make the water system adequate.

"To bring it into a first class system, an estimated $2½ million is needed.

"We haven't spent the million and a half because the council is going on a pay as you go system," he said.

Now heat from Canada helps keep 'em cozy

Warmth for your family comes from Canada through a new 1400-mile pipeline! The story behind this big pipeline project is a dramatic one: five thousand men dug, graded, drilled and blasted their way from Alberta, Canada, to Antioch, California . . . wrestled a half-million tons of yard-wide steel pipe into the ground in just fourteen months! The pipeline taps still another source of natural gas . . . bringing a new supply of comfort and energy to Northern and Central California. PG&E hustle and years-ahead planning, like this, demonstrate how pioneering enterprise serves a state-on-the-grow.

Spare The Rod?

We pamper them — we spoil them — we give them everything essential and non-essential they ask for and yet we don't or can't control them. They thumb their noses at parental, school and even police authority with only one thought in mind — "let's get our kicks out of life whether we injure anything or anyone in the getting."

We are speaking of some of the young hoodlums who, hiding behind their tender, teen-age years, are turning into little gangsters, dope addicts and real punks. They love to gang up and beat up others — they love to disobey all the rules of adult society — they sincerely love to destroy.

Of course, they have a hard lot in life — they drive their own cars, or the family car; have beautiful schools and playgrounds at their disposal, don't have to walk even to school (the school bus picks them up nearly at their own doorstep). Most of them never heard of work — they usually get an allowance.

Law officers have their hands tied tightly by state law when it comes to handling these minor hoodlums. Mustn't touch — the law says. Just be nice with them; pat them on the hand and say, "Please don't misbehave again."

Isn't it about time the general public got aroused enough to have some of these vicious young hoodlums restrained from doing more bodily harm to others? Spare the rod? No, let's use the rod — use it where it will do the most good, on the bare parts of their posterior anatomies!

Let's not deplore the deportment of all teenagers, there are a lot more who are well behaved than there are who are ill behaved — but when young hoodlums are allowed to roam the streets and beat up a boy so badly his eyesight may be permanently impaired, it is high time that some adult action is taken.

Full Summer Session

The District Board of Trustees has authorized a full summer session at the College of San Mateo, beginning the week of June 18 and running through the week of July 23. And a full session it is, with 93 offerings as compared with 25 last year.

And oops — what do you think appears as part of the curriculum? Why nothing else than weight conditioning, elementary golf, aquatics and volleyball are some of the physical education courses to be given. Couldn't find fishing, hunting or ping pong listed, but surely no self-respecting curriculum for a summer session would pass these up.

Seems just a bit ironic that sports items should be carried on a college's summer session list of "studies" but possibly the coming generation is entitled to become a bunch of "good sports" after all.

Management Speaks

(Editor's Note: The following notice was sent to employees by a San Francisco business firm. Hm-m-m—it might be applicable anywhere.)

Due to increase in competition and a keen desire to stay in business, we find it necessary to institute a new policy effective immediately.

We are asking that somewhere between starting time and quiting time, without infringing too much on the time devoted to luncheons, coffee breaks, ticket selling, party planning, vacation, planning, and rehearsing yesterday's game on TV—that each employee endeavor to find some time that he can set aside to be known as a Work Break. This may be rather a radical innovation for some, but we honestly believe that it can be an aid to regular employment, and means of insuring a regular paycheck.

While the adopting of this work is not compulsory, it is hoped that each employee will find time to give this plan a fair trial. It is also hoped that those employees not in favor of the work break idea, will have fully completed their vacation plans — vacations may come sooner than expected.

Signed: The Management.

Something For Everyone

by
Samuel Chandler

Lewis Mumford has won the National Book award for a volume containing a message that he has preached for years, though the world has never listened. In his book, The City in History, he warns that cities in every country of the world, especially in the United States, Russia and the countries of Europe, are suffering from over-growth and over-concentration. This condition grows more acute as millions of acres of open land are senselessly devoured by component suburbs of ever-growing megalopoises which are the brain children of planners eager to shuttle more and more people onto smaller and smaller plots of ground.

In the core of these super cities, Mr. Mumford finds violent slums that pour pollution over the whole society. Unless conditions are changed, the world may be "faced with the prospect of a dehumanized world, ruled by the cybernetic deity and its secretive priests, manipulated by professional illusionists and populated by unthinking automatons who are doomed to mandabureaucracy." He warns that such an eventuality may be avoided by reorganizing the cities of the world in ways that will cut out the uncontrolled and cancerous conditions To support his contention, he offers as evidence more than 5,000 years of urban history.

No doubt there will be critics who will scoff at Mr. Mumford's foreboding as they scoffed at his book, The Culture of Cities. Yet his new volume will be around for a long time—"as long as there are books," writes one critic. So will his old volume. Since it appeared in 1938, it has been required reading in many schools of political science.

Both The City in History and The Culture of Cities are large books. Together they are the masterpieces of a man who has written in most forms of literature.

The View From ..Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

An open letter . . .

The Honorable Kenneth B. Keating,
United States Senate,
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Sir:

This letter results from your article in the March, 1962, edition of the Reader's Digest, entitled, "Change the Law That Fosters Crime!" Your resume of the criminal's use of public communication systems such as the telephone in their illegal endeavors is clear and complete.

Your Senate speech predicting a "gigantic legal jailbreak" with respect to the wiretap muddle is well put. It is obvious that the law enforcement agencies are operating under wraps, as a result of present restrictions concerning the use of wiretap evidence.

The police are obliged to investigate incidences, and to control the spread of such crimes as bookmaking, call girl operations, abortion mills, and other vice conditions. In the article you mention that the criminal, as well as the espionage agent, has discovered that the telephone is the safest and most efficient tool of the century for these endeavors.

You further mention, and we agree, that the 1934 Federal Communications Act refers to the divulgence of message content, without permission of the sender, was directed toward divulgence by telephone operators and not the police. Inasmuch as telephone dialing is now in widespread use, it would seem, as you indicate, that this law is archaic in its original meaning, and inapplicable to the police.

It seems to be a case of not "what" is done, but "how" it is done. Other listening devices can be employed by the police against the criminal, so long as wiretapping is not the method used. Ever since the sword was first developed, counter measures have been employed by man; for the sword, the shield was utilized; for poison gas, the protective mask was developed; for the protection of the majority, government came to be; to offset the criminal, the police were employed. With the criminal utilizing the telephone as a means of accomplishing his purposes, it would seem to follow that the law enforcement people should be allowed to employ wiretaps.

Of course, as your article further indicates, such legally authorized wiretapping should be confined to a particular field of crime such as all forms of vice, and such crimes as would be punishable by five or more years in the state prison. We feel that your Senate Bill S 1086 covers these points so necessary to efficient law enforcement as well as protecting the typical citizen against unreasonable interference by the police.

Your bill, as you indicate, has safeguards which would make it more difficult to secure wiretap authorization than it is to secure a search warrant. We feel this amply safeguards the citizen. Today we are all concerned with civil liberties. As you mention in your article, and again we agree, too often have we concerned ourselves with the rights of those charged with crime, to the neglect of the drastic deprivation of liberty and property suffered by the crime victims. A properly worded and executed wiretap ("crime tapping," as you say) bill might tend to equalize this unbalanced situation.

You further mention that should the bill become law it would make available a crime fighting weapon for the five states having laws on the subject (namely, New York, Massachusetts, Nevada, Maryland and Oregon), and would clear the way for other states to enact similar laws. You state that your bill would not compel any state to pass a wiretap law if they did not want to.

Please be advised that this department favors your S1086, in which you urge Congress to act. Copies of this letter are being sent to California Senators Clair Engle and Thomas Kuchel. Further, the citizens whom we serve are being notified through the local newspapers, wherein this letter is being published. No doubt further comments will be forthcoming, both pro and con.

Very truly yours,

THE DALY CITY, CALIF., POLICE DEPARTMENT,
R. A. PETROCCHI,
Chief of Police.

FIRE FACTS

This article is written by Daly City firemen and is published in this paper for the purpase of keeping the public informed about their fire department, its duties and associated activities.

Daly City Firemen to Ring Doorbells

During the next few weeks, firemen will contact all homes in Daly City in an effort to sell tickets for their Widows and Orphans Association ball. They are holding their 29th annual ball on May 5 at the War Memorial building.

The men are making an all-out effort to have this dance a great success. Your investment in tickets for this worthy cause will be for a good night's entertainment and a chance to win one of the valuable door prizes.

Circle May 5 on your calendar so you won't miss a good dance. Please buy a ticket when the fireman rings your doorbell.

We might also mention that "Fire Service Day" has been designated for the same day as the Firemen's ball.

The fire department will hold open house at its three full-time fire stations, located at 151 Lake Merced boulevard, 499 Santa Barbara avenue and 191 Edgemont drive.

We will also hold a demonstration of fire apparatus and equipment in the Westtlake Shopping Center from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

We would appreciate it very much if you were to make a visit to one of the fire stations on May 5 and, actually, you owe it to yourselves to see what your taxes are paying for.

Circle May 5 on your calendar now. We'll be expecting you.

Thought for the week: Don't store flammable material near your furnace and water heater.

Food For Thought

By the Daly City Ministerial Association

It is hard for modern man to understand that there should be any supreme loyalty in life. Our life is so segmented that to say that religion or one's faith should take precedence over all else just does not seem to fit for many. To hear the words of Jesus, " . . . whoever he be of you that foresaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple" seems rather strange to many.

Rev. Vernon E. Thomas

We patronize the grocery store, the garage, the doctor, and many other services as we feel inclined. We may say that we will choose our religion too for it does not really matter just as long as we are sincere. But in saying this, we overlook the true nature of the faith that is in Jesus Christ. It is not a matter of "leave it" or "take it" for Jesus' demand upon our life is an absolute one. It is absolute in terms of love toward God the Heavenly Father and devotion to Christ Himself and His Kingdom. Jesus will be Lord of all or not Lord at all.

During the days of Lent we think in terms of denying ourselves something. But the question arises: Why are we doing this thing? Is it because we were told to? Or is it that we might enjoy life better after we have come off the fast or self denial? Is it that we are trying to barter with God? That is, are we seeking to bring Him to terms that we might get what we want after we have bowed to him a bit? One prophet asked the question, "Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? Another prophet declares in the same vein, "Obedience is better than sacrifice."

Let us remind ourselves that service to Christ is not just during the period of 40 days before Easter but one for all time. It is not a matter of a bargain table with God for he does not receive us that way. It is a matter of our hearts sincerely devoted to God with faith in and obedience to Jesus Christ 24 hours a day and 365 days a year. Let us not think that by denying self a few days in Lent that this constitutes a life acceptable to God. But rather, it is one where God so takes over in every area of life that the motto of our life will be, "What ever we do whether we eat or drink we do it all to the glory of God."

REV. VERNON E. THOMAS, Pastor,
Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene.

What Is Government?

(A community service, written by Paris B. Simmons, eighth grade social study teacher at Benjamin Franklin School, and currently a candidate for the city council.)

Dozens of individuals have admitted their confusion in the issue of the "Charter Type of Government," that it seems most fitting that an explanation of a general nature be given, to assist in clarifying the various concepts which will appear concerning such a charter for Daly City.

A city charter is a city constitution, setting up the administration of the governing bodies, including the ordinaces and laws desired.

The current form of government used in Daly City is very similar to the commissioner form of government, discussed below. It has the disadvantage of no check and balance system, with wide allowance for political machine type government.

Cities in California are classified into several categories, by population, and state charters are available for the specific categories,—however, all large cities prefer to form their own charters, setting up the government most suitable for their area.

The three forms used in the United States are (a) The Mayor-Council form in which the voters elect council members and mayor, separating each into legislative and executive bodies, thus forcing them to operate within the framework of checks and balances, similar to our federal or state governments. Department heads are appointed by the mayor with the approval of the council.

Under this system, the power of the Mayor may be weak or strong depending on the authority given him in the charter.

(b) The second form is the Commissioner form, which was first adopted in Galveston, Texas in 1901. This form abandons the separation of powers. The voters elect Commissioners who in turn serve as the department heads of the various civic departments. Objection to this comes when it encourages the spoils system, for there is no check and balance as with the other two forms.

(c) The final form is the Council-Manager form. In this the voters elect the City council and Mayor providing the check and balance. The City Manager is appointed and responsible to the council for direction of the various departments.

There are good and bad factors connected with each form, and space would not provide for the discussion of all of these.

The process of obtaining a charter is spelled out in the California State Constitution in Article IX, Sec. 8 (a) to 8½.

Simply there are two ways of obtaining a charter. First, the charter proposal is placed before the voter with a list of candidates (known as freeholders, or landowners) who will write the charter. The 15 highest obtain this honor, and must present a charter to the voters within one year after the election is officially announced. The completed charter is then voted upon and if ratified by a majority goes to the State Legislature for approval or rejection. The legislature is not allowed, by law, to amend any portion, they must either approve or reject.

As an alternative to this method, the City Council may frame, or propose to have framed (on their own motion) a Charter to be submitted to the voters and then to the legislature.

Amendments to the charter must always be referred to the people.

The various restrictions on content of Charter may be found in Article IX Section 8 ½ of the California Constitution.

In considering the government form most desirable for Daly City, it is most important that consideration be given to the manner or method of selecting the councilmen or commissioners, along with the number that should serve.

It is hoped that this will give sufficient background and encourage citizens to question further the various forms of government, so that Daly City, if it desires a Charter, will obtain the very best.

Letters To The Editor

Mothers Club Thanks Paper For Publicity

Dear Editor:

The Mothers Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church wishes to express its appreciation of the courtesy and cooperation shown us in publishing items and pictures concerning our recent fashion show.

The show was successful both financially as well as socially, and attendance reached an all time high for this annual affair. A large portion of the proceeds from this event has been allotted to purchase of classroom desks.

Again, many thinks for the part the wonderful coverage in The Record and The Westlake Times contributed to the success of this affair.

DORIS R. CHRISTEN,
Publicity Chairman.

COUNTY DOINGS

by JACK WOOD

The county's airport at Half Moon Bay is not a likely site for development of an air cargo center or as an alternate landing place for jets using International Airport.

According to W. R. Thigpen, chairman of the San Mateo County Development Association, the airlines would make little use of the county airport for jet landings when International Airport is socked in by fog.

The county is now buying land off the northern end of the runway at Half Moon Bay to create a "clear zone" for possible further lengthening of the runway. The board of supervisors asked the association to look into the possibility of expanding facilities, looking forward to the time when International Airport will be operating at maximum capacity.

Among Bay Area communities, Daly City has the highest proportion—73.9 per cent—of workers resident in the city employed in another county (outside San Mateo County). Pacifica, with 61.6 per cent, is next highest.

These figures were released by the Division of Labor Statistics and Research of the California Department of Industrial Relations.

According to the report, the percentage of workers employed outside their county residence is as follows:

Belmont, 30.9; Burlingame, 33.0; Menlo Park, 47.5; Pacifica, 61.6; Redwood City, 25.1; San Bruno, 43.2; San Carlos, 31.1; San Mateo, 29.1; South San Francisco, 51.5; Millbrae, 46.2.

The committee noted that in the city of San Francisco, 37 per cent of the workers use public transportation against 15 per cent in Oakland. Only 17 per cent of all workers in the San Francisco-Oakland Metropolitan Area use public transportation to get to work, while 63 per cent ride in a private automobile or car pool. Less than 8 per cent walk to work.

Westlake PTA Koffee Klatch Is Successful

The second annual Koffee Klatch of the Westlake PTA proved a most successful and entertaining afternoon.

Beautiful spring decorations graced the tables. Delightful pictures by the students decorated the walls of the multi-use room.

Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Bush of the College of San Mateo School of Cosmotology gave a most interesting talk and demonstration with the aid of her students.

The three models Mesdames Ann Aguilar, Betty Churchill and Kathy Jones received individually designed hair styles and make-up.

Prizes of hair styling, manicure, make-up, tint and tone were won by Mesdames Brown, Inez Grant, Eva Hurley, Muriel Ness and Sarah Daly. The winner of the poodle raffle was Mrs. A. McLead.

Bomb Scare At Westmoor

Westmoor High School received a telephoned bomb threat March 15, Daly City police reported.

Vice principal Thomas Panagonleas reported the switchboard operator Phillis Lindberg received a call from a "boy's voice" that there was a bomb planted in the school and set to go off at 3:30 p.m.

An investigation was made of the area, and garbage cans checked with negative results, police said.

Shoplifters Leave The Trousers Behind

Two men were caught in the act of stealing 20 pairs of trousers, March 14, at the J. C. Penney store in the Westlake Shopping Center, but ditched their loot in a garbage can when followed by the floor manager.

Police said floor manager Dick Scott, 590 Ocean avenue, followed the men outside the store. The suspects, described as between 35 and 40 years old and wearing dark clothes, dumped the trousers before fleeing in their auto, police reported.

GREEK RECEPTION—Attending a special "Visit Greece Week" reception at the Greek consulate were children of Mr. and Mrs. Tryphon Nichols of 66 Lake Meadow drive, Daly City. Dressed in Greek costumes, the children danced for an assembly of travel editors and radio and TV representatives. Pictured with Christina and her brother, Christopher, are Pally Noyes, Patric Frazier and Sotetrios Bouphidis, consul general of Greece. Christina and Christopher will appear Friday at 5:30 p. m. on KQED with Dick Ford's program. Ford will interview the children about "Visit Greece Week."

Vista Grande Church Bazaar Is March 31

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Vista Grande Avenue Christian Church will hold its annual bazaar and rummage sale Saturday, March 31. The sale will be held in Fireside Hall at the church, 101 Vista Grande avenue in Daly City. Doors will open at 10 a. m. and close at 4 p. m.

Friends and neighbors are invited. Any donations will be picked up by calling Mrs. Williams, JU 7-5103, or Mrs. Golden, PL 5-6928. All proceeds will go to mission work of this organization.

It's News To Vets

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Must a $10,000 GI term insurance policy be converted to permanent plan type insurance all at once?

A—A veteran may convert as little as $1,000 (or more, of course) to a permanent plan while retaining the remainder as term insurance. In this way, he can stretch the conversion over several years in keeping with his own financial condition.

Q—How mny veterans have thus far taken advantage of the VA home, farm or business loan program?

A—More than 6,000,000 veterans had made such loans up to Dec. 31, 1961.

Q—Are any survivors of the Mexican War still alive?

A—No, since this war ended in 1848, more than 110 years ago. However, there are still two widows of Mexican War veterans alive in the United States.

Q—Does the VA set standards for prosthetic devices in this country?

A—The VA has a leading role in supporting and conducting research and development of prosthetic and sensory aids, in cooperation with other government agencies, universities, industial organizations, and private agencies. Also, the VA is the largest single purchaser of prosthetic devices in the United States. Thus the VA exercises considerable influence on the quality of appliances and services furnished by the prosthetics industry not only to veterans but also to all disabled persons. Primarily as a result of this influence, prosthetic devices have been greatly improved in the past 16 years.

Shell Election Chairman Named

Joseph Romer of Colma, insurance agent in San Francisco, has been appointed chairman of the first supervisorial district for the San Mateo County Shell-for-Governor campaign committee, according to an announcement by David H. Keyston, general chairman.

This encompasses South San Francisco, San Bruno, Pacifica, Brisbane and Daly City.

Our Redeemer's Women Study Bible

Three groups of women, numbering about 40, of the Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church meet once each month for the discussion and studying of the Bible.

Each group is led by a chairman — Mrs. William Burrus, Mrs. John Freund and Mrs. James Jones. The Bible teachers are Mrs. Haldor Berg, Mrs. Wilbur Good and Mrs. Laura Kautz.

The informal discussion which typifies this approach to Bible study makes each person a participant and in turn each is given a unique insight into the Holy Sriptures. The general theme of study is "Jesus Christ, the Light of the World."

The Bible Study groups will meet at the homes of Mrs. Reinhold Peterson, Mrs. George Peterson and Mrs. Alex Cozakos on Thursday, March 22, at 9 a. m. and 8 p. m., respectively.

B'nai B'rith Plan Meet At Boat House

The next meeting of Seven Hills Chapter, B'nai B'rith will be held Wednesday, March 28, at 8 p. m. at the Lake Merced Boat House.

Initiation of new members will be the program for the evening, with Mrs. Mel Reitman in charge.

New members are Mrs. M. Bobo, Mrs. B. Brickman, Mrs. R. DeLue, Mrs. N. Friedeberg, Mrs. M. Hirschel, Mrs. P. Jacobos, Mrs. L. Levy, Mrs. H. Moss, Mrs. M. Rabinovitz, Mrs. M. Schlesinger and Mrs. S. Sugarman.

DALY CITY NEEDS

1. PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

A Public Utility Commission of qualified members should be appointed. With the building of more and more homes, our watershed becomes smaller and smaller. The Council should solicit State and Federal aid so that facilities to insure our water supply will be guaranteed.

2. TRANSPORTATION

An interurban study committee should be formed with Daly City, South San Francisco and San Bruno participating. I have definite ideas on a sensible and practicable route.

3. MODERN CITY FACILITIES

A new Civic Center, financed through the Capital Outlay Fund, is essential. Bonds, paid on a revolving basis, would result in no additional taxes.

4. REVISED ZONING ORDINANCE

City Council determines the number of students who will live in a subdivision. Daly City is the only area in the county permitting 33-foot lots. A new ordinance is needed.

5. PUBLIC PARKING ACCOMMODATION

All parking meter revenues come from the Mission Street area. I would extend the 14 bus line south to Market Street, with any losses paid from parking revenues. Alp Street should be widened to provide angle parking to accommodate users of the War Memorial Building.

6. CITY COUNCIL REORGANIZATION

The City Council should be enlarged to seven members and be elected by district apportionment. Crocker tract has had no representation on the Council for years.

7. STREET IMPROVEMENTS

The dangerous condition of Parkview, Vista Grande, Theta, Los Olivos, Los Banos, Hillcrest and Bepler Streets needs correction. Bricks, installed in the horse and buggy days, should be removed.

8. TAX REVUE REPORT

The Director of Finance should include, with bi-monthly water bills, a report on Sales Tax receipts for the last two months, including an accumulating balance for the year. Benefits to the city should be shown, with a message that when you spend your money in Daly City, you help the city, its merchants and yourself.

YOU DO HAVE A CHOICE!

Question:

WHO is the Citizens Committee for Good Government?

Question:

WHAT is the "Citizen Defender"?

Answer: →

Question:

WHY do they exist?

Answer: Because this man, whose only qualification for office is a bulging vocabulary of trite phrases, wants to be on your City Council with his hand-picked cohorts.

Their platform: A guarantee of chaos born of revenge.

CERTIFICATE OF INDIVIDUAL TRANSACTING BUSINESS UNDER A FICTITIOUS NAME

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

That I, the undersigned, FRED J. WALKER, do hereby certify:

That my name in full and place of residence is as follows:

Fred J. Walker
255 Palisades Drive
Daly City, California

That I am transacting business in the State of California under the fictitious name of CITIZEN DEFENDER and/or CITIZENS COMMITTEE FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT, and that I am the sole proprietor of said business; that the principal place of business is 255 Palisades Drive, Daly City, State of California.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 6 day of February, 1961.

FRED J. WALKER

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO } ss

On this 6 day of February, 1961, before me Joseph Wiesner, a Notary Public in and for the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, personally appeared Fred J. Walker, known to me to be the person whose name is subscribed to the within instrument, and duly acknowledged to me that he executed the same.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal in the day and year in this certificate first above written.

Joseph Wiesner
Notary Public in and for the City and County of San Francisco, State of California.

My commission expires May 23, 1962

The CCFGG has become the PRIVATE BUSINESS and PERSONAL PROPERTY of ONE MAN!

What was once an organization composed of many sincere and conscientious men and women—formed to be a wholesome influence in local government—has now become:

OCCUPIED by one man to give him "respectability."

CORRUPTED for his own exclusive use.

EXPLOITED as a one-man "admiration society."

The "Citizen Defender" has become this man's own campaign organ. It has been:

SEIZED to spread untruths and sew distrust.

ABUSED by abandoning the public interest.

SUBVERTED to make a mockery of the intelligence of Daly City Voters.

WEIGH THE REAL ISSUES

APRIL 10, 1962, CITY ELECTIONS

* "The Citizens Committee For Good Government was taken over and registered on Feb. 14, 1961, as Fred Walker transacting business under the fictitious name of Citizen Defender and/or Citizens Committee For Good Government. HE IS SOLE PROPRIETOR OF THAT BUSINESS.

"This was done without knowledge or consent of the membership. Therefore, we do not feel we can support any group operating in such a manner and wish to publicly withdraw, and have in fact resigned."

"One man (who wants to be your city councilman) has taken personal possession of the Citizens Committee For Good Government, which had included many responsible and well-intentioned Daly City people, including myself, during the Callan annexation fight. ANNEXATION IS NOT AN ISSUE TODAY! The CCFGG and its publication "Citizen Defender" are nothing more than private political campaign tools. Purpose of the organization is now the promotion of the personal political fortunes of Fred J. Walker and his two teammates."

"I hereby tender my resignation as an officer."

Leonard J. Brown

"A great many citizens, caught up in the annexation issue in the last election (two years ago) had no intention of having the Citizens Committee For Good Government march on as a third party 'admiration society' for aspiring politicians. Having taken over the organization, one man and his cohorts have now performed the final act in their little comedy by endorsing themselves for city council.

"I was a leader in the fight against annexation. But I want no part of this threesome who are trying to use us as stepping stones to city hall."

A. J. Bodien, Former City Councilman,
General Chairman, 50th Anniversary Committee

"No citizen's group could long survive, or be of service to the community, that was not duly constituted and incorporated under proper procedure. All attempts to provide such a background were opposed by Noonan, O'Haire and Walker, whose 'ownership' of the CCFGG was secretly accomplished. Do they now plan to take over 'ownership' of our city council? Those of us who still believe in good government are afraid that the 'NOW' candidates might do the 'twist' again and turn out as 'OWN.'"

Elsie Garrison

"The latest thing in 'drafts' was introduced to Daly City politics this week and it immediately ran into a snag. Prominent members of the Citizens Committee For Good Government, including its secretary, Leonard J. Brown, have accused San Francisco newspaperman Fred J. Walker of converting the organization to Walker's own personal, private business and then using it to 'draft' himself as a city council candidate."

Students To Participate In F. Rivera PTA Program

On March 27, at 7:30 p. m., the Fernando Rivera PTA will meet. A panel discussion will be presented on the topic: "What Do We Expect from Our Schools?" under the leadership of the Rev. E. Clark Robb.

Pupil participation will follow with an panel discussion on the topic: "Our American Heritage."

Students included on this panel are Patricia Crandall, Robert O'Neil, Ruth Goldman, Craig Morton, Clara Roboostoff, Robert Smice, Vicki Lorger, Michelle Gargano, Karen Mihalovici, Stephen Silen, Randi Morton, Audrey Zweig, Mariann Jorgensen, Peggy Goodell, Louis Mateucci, Ronald Bambao, Mike Houston, Barbara Buser, Frank Chong and John Spittler. This promises to be a vigorous and interesting activity.

Songs of the Gay Nineties will be presented by Miss Finley's sixth grade class.

Renanah Choir To Sing At Seacliff

The 35-voice Renanah Choir of Simpson Bible College in San Francisco will present a sacred concert in the Seacliff Community Church, located at 50 Northridge drive, Westlake, on Sunday, March 25, at 7:30 p. m.

Featured with the choir, as director and baritone soloist, is Mr. Russell J. Marshall, chairman of the division of fine arts at the college.

The concert will include a blending of choral numbers, hymn arrangements and spirituals. Various smaller ensembles, including the Simpsonaires Quartet, Trumpet Trio, Simpson Sextet, the Radio Trio, will also be presented with the choir.

The apearance of the Renanah choir here is sponsored by the Seacliff Community Church of which the Rev. Clark Robb is the pastor. The church organist, Ronald Filler, is a graduate of Simpson college(and his late wife, Lois, killed in an auto accident last fall, is recorded on a long-play record as a soloist with the choir.

There is no admission charge for this second concert, but a free will offering will be received for the choir and the college.

Hillside PTA Has Founder's Day Fete

The Founder's Day program of Hillside PTA in February was highlighted by the presentation of honorary life memberships to Mrs. Norman Maita and Mrs. Bernice Meinzer.

"Those Wonderful Years" was the theme of the skit which was narrated by Mrs. Florence Murphy, Founder's Day chairman, and featured singers from Byron Ogden's choir and dances performed by Patty Gandolfi, Linda Hiskey and Susan Alexander with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Henrietta Tomasello.

Don Lesher, honorary life membership chairman, presented a program entitled "This Is Your Life," during which he presented the life memberships to the two very deserving recipients.

President Norma Maita introduced Dr. and Mrs. Vinton Stratton, honorary life members and past presidents of our unit.

Postmaster's Wife Hurt In Crackup

The wife of the Pacifica postmaster was hospitalized with broken legs, March 19, following a two-car crackup on the Edgemar Freeway near Pacifica.

Highway patrolmen said Mrs. Anna Woolf, 49, of 530 San Mateo, Pacifica, and three passengers were injured when a car driven by Stanley Durkee, 62, of 650 - 26th avenue, San Francisco, struck a guard rail for an unknown reason, crossed the divider strip and struck the Woolf car headon. Durkee was thrown out of his car and his auto went over an embankment.

Also treated for injuries at Junipero Serra Hospital were Margaret Berkowitz, 43, of 206 San Pedro, Pacifica, and Julie Read, 54, 24 Avalon drive, Pacifica. Mrs. Woolf was hospitalized at Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco.

Lighted Match Starts Motor Scooter Fire

A motor scooter burned when Henry Black, 111 South Mayfair, lit a match on March 19 in a carport at his residence, Daly City police reported.

Damages to the scooter, owned by Peter Baldwin of the same address, was estimated at $400, firemen said. Firemen said the explosion was caused by a gasoline leak.

DC POLITICAL PARADE

Micheal DeBernardi

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi has called for honesty and fairness in dealing with the issue of annexation and has rejected as "cheap, sideshow politics" the efforts to confuse Daly City voters on this important subject.

"The word 'annexation' is being used in the election campaign to scare and confuse the people of Daly City," DeBernardi said.

"The proposed Christen Annexation was brought before the city council last year. Because of inadequate information and the lack of a land use map being provided to the city by the owners, this matter was dropped. It will stay that way until it is presented with appropriate information and land use map so that it may be studied as to whether it will benefit the city or not.

"Many people can 'suppose' what the good or bad points of an annexation are. The city, before it can hold public hearings on the subject—and they must by law—has to have the factual answers—good and bad.

"In fairness to any issue, these matters should not be pre-judged because of cheap political expediency. On the Christen Annexation itself, I don't know the source of the figures being loosely quoted.

"The only facts known today are:

"1. Boundaries of the area.

"2. The owners.

"3. A small portion of these lands are in the North County Sanitation District.

"4. A major portion of these lands are already in the Jefferson Elementary School District.

"These were and are the only facts known. Because that information is inadequate, your city council dropped the matter. The truth is simply stated."

Harry R. Farber

My many supporters and I are very proud of my independant campaign, humble as it may be and with limited funds and Small Posters. At least I can honestly and without fear of contradiction say, there are no strings attached nor do I owe any commitments to any one or group.

As staunch believers of freedom of thought and action, my supporters appeal to every voter's pride and responsibility —to vote for the independant free thinking men who are not tied to, or associated with, the power groups who presently control or seek to control our city.

During this campaign, I have repeatedly stated my platform at many meetings and I herewith openly offer it to the voters for their approval:

1. It is time we give the people of Daly City an opportunity to help make some of the decisions that will effect their tax dollar.

2. We must make every effort to hold the line on taxes and curtail all unnecessary expenditures in all city departments.

3. We must "once and for all" eliminate all free ride ennexations.

4. We must insist on a closer bond between Council and School Boards for the best interest of our youth.

5. We must make a concerted effort to have adequate recreational facilities, located centrally in all districts of the city, for use both day and night for our children.

6. We must make a sincere effort to give our city adequate transportation.

7. We must explore every possibility of inviting commerce and industry into our city to help share the ever growing tax burden.

8. We must make sure our city employees, in all departments, are given the rights and opportunity they are justly entitled to have.

Once again I repeat—Let us not be swayed by the volume of posters or advertisments or even condemnation—but rather —Let each of us think seriously of our burden as voters and cast our ballot with the pride and dignity that befits each citizen—for those independant candidates who can honestly call themselves individuals with free minds, thoughts and actions.

Local Man Reelected Boys Center V. P.

Lawrence R. McDonnell, 170 Wilshire Avenue, Daly City, this week (March 21) was reelected vice-president of the board of directors of Hanna Boys Center, the western "boys' town" near Sonoma.

McDonnell's re-election was announced at a general meeting of the 45-member group in San Francisco by Hanna Center's director, Rt. Rev. William L. O'Connor. The director expressed appreciation to McDonnell for the part played by residents of this area in the expansion of Hanna Center's activities during the past year.

Edward P. O'Haire

I find it difficult to engage in controversial political issues because I am not a professional politician. I am an Attorney-At-Law. I entered the race for City Council not by choice but because I was asked to serve during a time of civic emergency. I have nothing to gain from election to office: I have nothing to sell, no axe to grind. I need no special favors of the kind that benefit the average businessman upon election to office.

I merely want to help all of the good people of Daly City, Westlake and St. Francis Heights, by bringing into our Council the legal experience I have acquired through years of practice before the Bar. I feel certain that a Charter form of government will not come to our community unless and until the people elect competent and capable men to office.

I will be the taxpayers' legal watch-dog if I am honored by election to the Council. I will serve with devotion and pride, because I am one of your neighbors—and your problems are mine.

Paris B. Simmons

This candidate answers the letter of Mr. Smice appearing recently in this paper, and is happy for the opportunity to state his views on the various questions asked.

1. If elected I do not intend merely being a good councilman. It is my intention to be the best. My reasons are as follows:

A. Education. More education than any other candidate running, including not only a Bachelor degree, but a Master degree and a degree from two additional years of training at a business college.

B. Experience. Definitely more varied than any other candidate. A very strong background in government accounting, court reporting, civil service, and of course my true love teaching U.S. Government to eighth graders.

C. Freedom from obligations to any faction, since I am refusing financial support or accepting any funds to promote my obligation. Such funds have been offered, such funds have been refused by this candidate.

2. I consider 20 not 3 the most important items facing the area of Daly City which require immediate attention. A copy of my platform which includes these has been forwarded to Mr. Smice. Anyone else, including my opponents, desiring the list may obtain a copy by forwarding a request to 366 Skyline Drive, the Vote For Paris in April headquarters.

3. There are three types of charter government organizational patterns that might be placed into effect if such was the desire of the community. Two of these are exceptionally fine in that they tend to destroy machine politics by a system of check and balance. Daly City currently has the other type. It would be necessary to know which form of administration would be desired before this candidate could discuss the various details. Many individuals have requested information as to what a Charter type government is, therefore as a community service this candidate has prepared a column for the paper, in lieu of his weekly series, which explains it and allows those confused on the matter, (including a few of my opponents), to evaluate it on the basis of whether or not it is good for Daly City.

4. I believe in annexation if such annexation will be of real and material benefit to the entire city, particularly in the area of taxation. Controls would not be difficult with the proper inactment of local legislation.

5. I want to be a councilman because I am a servant of the people, a teacher dedicated to highest principles and ideas of good representative government. I want to display to my students that all politics or politicans need not be crooked, and that many are extremely serious in serving honorably. As the first elementary teacher in Daly City to ever run for a Council position, I want this unprecedented move to serve as an incentive for others, not only students, but all responsible citizens.

Victim Robbed At Knifepoint

William Patrick Ronan, 25, of 654 Third avenue, San Francisco, was the victim of a robbery at knifepoint March 17 when two men and a woman robbed him of $19 in the Crocker Hills and then threw him over an embankment, he told police.

Ronan told Daly City police he was walking along Geary street in San Francisco when the trio invited him into a car. They drove to the Crocker Hills area where a switchblade was produced and the robbery took place.

Edward J. Dennis

Formation of a Daly City Labor-For-Dennis Committee, pledged to Edward J. Dennis' support for re-election to the City Council, was announced today by John F. Crowley, chairman.

Serving with Crowley on the committee are two other well-known labor representatives, Walter J. Gillies and Tony A. Ricci.

Crowley pointed out that Councilman Dennis is the only labor representative on the city council and that such representation is important to the consideration and solution of Daly City's problems.

"Councilman Dennis has proven to be a good representative, not only for organized labor, but for the entire citizenry of Daly City," Crowley declared. "His 12-year record in Daly City government affairs reveals a rare dedication to the best principles of Democracy."

Crowley added: "We are fortunate to have a man of Dennis' calibre available to serve on the city council. His intimate knowledge of the city, its problems and its opportunities, is a valuable contribution to the people.

"Eddie Dennis gives unnesitatingly of his time and energy to the city, not only in the affairs of government, but in civic and charity work as well."

Crowley said his committee is working very closely with all labor groups in the city to solidify support of this section of the community which needs to maintain an effective voice in the affairs of Daly City.

Dennis is a native of Daly City. He lives at 99 Teresa Street with his wife, Hilda, and daughter, Carolyn, 20, a junior at San Francisco State College. A son, Edward Jr., 23, is with the U. S. Army in Europe.

For the past 15 years, Dennis has served as president and business representative of the Milk Drivers Union, Local 226 of San Francisco and San Mateo Counties.

Sheldon M. Prezant

This past week, Sheldon Prezant, in keeping pace with the campaign, met with many more groups of business people, civic and social organizations. They have nothing but praise for the ideas and powerful stands that Prezant has taken on the critical issues.

Starting next week, Sheldon Prezant, will start on his "Walk For Victory." He hopes to distribute his brochure to every resident of Daly City so that they can meet personally the independent candidate of their choice.

At one gathering, Prezant gave this explanation of objectives. "There is nothing to gain in tearing down my opponents. We are familiar with the stands and accomplishments of these men the past four years of their regimes. I do not intend to offer promises or objectives which are impossible to pursue. We cannot undo the wrongs, the errors, and the lack of representation which have confronted the citizens this past term. However, we can through intelligent cooperation start new programs, new ideas, and enforce these objectives with the strong will of the people as the backbone of our government instead of political machines."

Mr. Ronald Mangean, addressing another group of Daly City Citizens, stated that Prezant has the energy and "Know-How" to lead our people. He further mentioned that Sheldon Prezant possesses the dynamic ability necessary to "Get Things Done."

In explaining his "Walk for Victory," Prezant stated that the average citizen in Daly City has never been afforded the opportunity to talk with the councilmen. In this way, "I can learn first hand the problems, the objectives, the virtues both good and bad of our Daly City from You the people."

As an independent candidate, I want to express my amazement and thanks to the people who call me each day and ask; "What Can I Do To Help?" The encouragement and enthusiasm shown by my friends and neighbors throughout Daly City confirms my strong opinion that as one of you, my "Walk for Victory" will prove that I, Sheldon Prezant, am "Of the People, By the People, and For the People."

OBITUARY

Rites Held For Polly Scovil

Funeral services were held Monday, March 12, for Polly Scovil, 118 East Vista avenue, Daly City.

Mrs. Scovil, a resident of Daly City for 15 years, is survived by daughters Mrs. Florence Frederickson of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Mrs. Jane Keith of Daly City; and sons Ray and Keith Scovil.

Robert St. Clair

Mayor Robert B. St. Clair canme in for praise today from residents of Westlake Terrace for his interest in obtaining land for children's playground development.

The mayor and city coucil has received a letter from Mrs. John Boghosian, 9 Westline Drive expressing appreciation "for the splendid cooperation that you and the city council extended to our group in taking action to obtain playground facilities for our children."

Mrs. Boghosian added: "We were pleased, not only with the helpful manner in which you met with our committee, but the prompt and decisive way you were able to work with the developer in obtaining title to the proposed playground property.

"It is our understanding that the property, which has now been deeded to the city for playground purposes, was obtained free of charge to the taxpayers, and that the modest expense of preparing the land for its use will not cause any appreciable delay. City Manager Edward Frank has informed us that the playground should be available to the children before the end of summer.

"Your sincere efforts and effective action on our behalf in obtaining the property and getting this important project under way is an excellent demonstration of good relations between City Hall and the Daly City homeowner."

St. Clair has long been an advocate of a sound recreational program for the City, pointing to the importance of keeping the community's young people active and healthy.

George Kirchhubel

They say: your crazy! A million and a half dollar Civic Center to be retired in fifteen years without raising taxes?

The answer is simple. We use the capital outlay money derived from the sales and use tax.

We brag that we have become as of to-day the second largest city in population in San Mateo County.

Why is it then, that we have not one single County facility? Why do we have to travel 22 miles back and forth for services that we should have here? Why does the Police Department have to travel miles to a court and waste many man hours when they can be tied to-gether?

Again the answer is simple. Where are you going to put them if you have no place to house them? The savings to the city in efficiency will pay for itself. The rentals from these county services under a city roof will bring a permanent income to the city.

I believe that when a man in a department has taken an oath not to strike against the city, and if the department in which he is in wishes to unionize for the purposes of protection and bargaining, they should be allowed to do so, just as in other cities.

Fred J. Walker

"I want to make it crystal-clear"—says Fred J. Walker, chairman of Citizens' Committee for Good Government—"that the ill-fated Callan Annexation and the upcoming Christen Annexation are two of the primary issues of this year's election campaign. The reason why the incumbents are crying to the high heavens is because we are going to stop these annexation schemes before they stop us. Never again will the little people of this community be duped by self-seekers, machine politicians and bosses.

The issue of the Christen Ranch annexation is as wide open as a barn door. The minutes of our city council show clearly that the public hearings have not been closed. The statement by the incumbents that the Christen Annexation will be put to the electorate for determination is ambiguous: there is absolutely no need for a special election with its costly burden added to our tax rolls. The council can wipe the Christen deal from the record by stroke of the pen. It can deny the annexation in toto, unless and until the developers are assessed in the amount of $700 to $1000 per lot, and these moneys used to reduce our present back-breaking tax load.

Do you believe, for a moment, that the Developers will agree to such a plan? Of course NOT. And so the incumbents are playing possum until after the election. When it comes to questions of annexations, a word to the wise should be sufficient: 'Believe in the men who saved you before; remember the Callan fiasco."

Thomas F. Noonan

The problems of our school system have been many and varied, as is to be expected in any community where mushrooming growth of the population brings with it a never-ending dilemma. For this reason it is apparent that these school problems are seldom—if ever—understood by the professional politicians. They simply aren't close enough to the forest to see the trees. It is therefore obvious that a specialist in matters of education is the logical person to cope with the many vexing problems.

I have devoted long years of my life to schools, school-children, teachers, recreational facilities and, above all, the school-tax structure.

Thousands of mothers in Daly City, Westlake and St. Francis Heights have seen fit to put me on their school board—and keep me there. With years of practical experience gained with your help, and with a desire to bring this experience directly into the City Council for the good of every taxpayer, I hereby publicly invite our mayor to meet me in open debate—at a time and place of his choice—so that the entire school-tax controversy can be unfolded before the people of this community. It is also my hope that a formal date for this meeting can be announced in the pages of this newspaper next week.

Local YWCA Gals To Meet Orientals

International diplomacy will be practiced in Daly City on a woman's level next week when members of the local YWCA will sit down to lunch with their counterparts from San Francisco YW Oriental women's groups.

Talk is expected to be of cooking, clothes and babies, rather than politics, however, at this unusual gathering, a money-raising event for the YW's World Fellowship Fund.

Open to the public, the luncheon will be held at Sai Wu Gardens on March 29 from 1 to 3 p.m. Tickets are $2, with part of the proceeds going to the World Fellowship Fund. Free baby-sitting will be available. Chairman is Mrs. Sidney Trager, representing the volunteers of the North San Mateo County YWCA.

Among the speakers will be Mrs. Angeles Avecilla of the 1830 Sutter street YWCA staff who will describe the lovely Filipino folk dances, and Mrs. Bong Youn Choy, who teaches Korean cooking for the YW, will describe her specialty. Mrs. Makota Sasaki, president of Satsuki Kai, YW Japanese-women's club, will demonstrate her country-women's skill at flower arranging.

Members of the Satsuki-Kai, by the way, are busily requisitioning cars to come out together to attend the Daly City luncheon. Mrs. Sasaki, who is from Osaka, Japan, has convinced her clubmates that this will be a splendid opportunity to improve their English.

Members of Mrs. Avecilla's Filipino club, Pearl of the Orient, are also planning to attend.

Panorama Travel Service is co-operating with the YWCA, supplying postage and invitations. Each woman attending will receive a little gift from Mrs. Ethel Barry, owner of Sai Wu Gardens.

For reservations, call the YWCA office, PL 6-7370.

Loren Reeves New Title Co. Branch Manager

Appointment of Loren Reeves as manager of its branch serving the north county area, with offices in Daly City at 2376 Junipero Serra, was announced this week by U. S. Title & Guaranty Company.

Reeves joins the rapidly-growing young county-wide firm after nine years' experience in San Francisco land title operations. U. S. T. G. is headquartered at Redwood City and maintains a mid-county service office in Millbrae in addition to its Daly City branch.

A native of Washington state and alumnus of its University of Washington, Reeves served with an Army artillery unit during the Korean conflict. He makes his home with his wife, Mary, at 655 Lake Merced boulevard in Westlake.

Mexico has proclaimed the town of Taxco, hub of silversmithing, a national monument.

Pacifica Concert Scheduled

On Sunday, March 25, at 8 p. m. Jane McKinney, organist, and Rung Hasselgren, tenor, well-known Pacifica musicians, will present a concert at the First Presbyterian Church of Pacifica. The program is a varied and interesting one, including sacred, classical, and popular music.

These two artists are well known in coastside and Bay area musical circles and are experienced entertainers. This is the third such concert they have given in the past year.

Tickets may be purchased at the door and are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. All proceeds are for the general fund of the church.

TN's Kim Post Receives Award

Kim Post, one of Terra Nova's outstanding seniors, was chosen to go to the Youth Science Congress. Kim was chosen on his, as yet, unfinished paper on "The Theory of Rounding-Off Numbers."

Virginia Schlegol, another of Terra Nova's seniors, won the Lions Club annual student speaker contest, held March 2 in Pacifica's City Hall. Virginia spoke on her future vocation as a teacher. Pete Valdez and Karen Post tied for second place.

Terra Nova's seniors will hold three car washes on Saturdays, March 31, April 25 and May 26 from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. They will be held at the Texaco filling stations in Pacific Manor and Linda Mar. For only $1 the cars are washed, swept and dried.

Book Review Thursday At Westlake Bowl

Daly City Friends of the Library and the YWCA will hold their next book review meeting on Thursday, March 22, at 10 a. m. in the Westlake Bowl.

Speaker will be Eugene B. Block, author, former newspaper writer and member of the board of parole commissioners of San Francisco.

Block will discuss his own works in the field of criminology and the background of preparation for them. His published works include "The Great Train Robberies of the West" and "The Wizard of Berkeley," a biography of criminologist Edward O. Heinrich. Two new books will appear this year, "Great Stage Robberies of the West and "—and May God Have Mercy," a history of the fight to abolish capital punishment.

A coffee hour will precede the review as a courtesy of the management of the Westlake Bowl, who also provide free nursery service.

Country Fair Set By Pacific Manor PTA

Pacific manor PTA members are now completing their plans for their "Country Fair" which will be held on March 31 from 2 to 8 p.m.

There will be games for all ages, including animal corral, buried treasure, goldfish and many others.

Some of the booths to be featured will be the handmade and handcraft tables, toy table, white elephants table and plant booth.

Something new will be added to the festivities this year, such as fortune telling, silhouettes and teenage booth.

Free drawings will be going on all day. You must be present to win. A drawing at 6 p.m. will entitle some lucky boy and girl to reign over the Fair. They will receive free tickets for all of the games. Registration will be from 2 to 5:30 p.m.

Among goodies at the Fair will be cotton candy and pop corn. The Chuck Wagon will serve Red Hots, Chili, Coffee Soft Drinks, Ice creambars, and cake.

The Bar Mitzvah of Michael Salomon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gunther Salomon of South San Francisco, will take place on Saturday morning, March 24, at 10 o'clock, at 67 Los Banos avenue in Daly City with Rabbi Shore officiating.

The Sunday School children of the Congregation will present a special Purim program Sunday morning, March 25, at 10 o'clock. Each class will put on a separate skit, and the third, fourth and fifth grade children will perform jointly in a play under the direction of Mrs. Isaac Goldberg and the supervision of Leon Benson, religious school chairman, and Julius Michaelis. After the program, the Sisterhood will supply the traditional Hamantaschen for all the children.

The Sisterhood announces that rummage is now being collected for its annual rummage sale, which will be held at the San Bruno volunteer firehouse, 624 San Mateo avenue, San Bruno, on May 22. The chairman is Mrs. Edgar Hart and the co-chairman is Mrs. David Hoffman. Rummage will be accepted Sunday mornings at 67 Los Banos avenue in Daly City.

Presbyterian Fellowship Program Cited

The Broadmoor Presbyterian Church of 377 - 87th street calls attention to its on-going program of Christian education and fellowship for adults.

There are organized groups for men, women, and married couples which are affiliated with the National Presbyterian Associations. These organizations hold regular monthly meetings to which those interested are cordially invited.

The churchmen hold a dinner meeting from 6:20 to 8 p.m. on the third Monday of each month. The officers are Collins Orton, president, and Rodman Barnes, secretary-treasurer.

There were 35 men in attendance at last Monday's dinner. The pastor, Rev. Herbert Tweedie, gave the devotional, Del Severy led the singing, and Ken Gillespie presented Rev. Frank Mouer who showed slides and spoke of the Presbyterian conference grounds in this area.

The women's association holds either a luncheon or an evening meeting the first Tuesday of each month. The understanding of Christian thought and participation in service are emphasized. There's a large group of officers among whom Mrs. James Hamilton is president, Mrs. Rex Spruiell is vice-president, and Mrs. Henry. Sunderman is program chairman. The meeting on April 3 will be a luncheon with the program calling attention to church interests in student training overseas. The women's association also consists of four circles which meet monthly in homes for study, projects, and inspiration.

The organization for couples is called the Voyagers Mariners. This is because the goal is a safe journey on the sea of matrimony through Christian guidance.

The Mariners meet the first Saturday evening of each month. The meeting of April 7 will be a progressive dinner beginning at 6:30 in various homes and ending at the Louis Paulsen home. The officers are couples which are headed by Bob and Marge McBride who are the Skippers. It is pointed out that church understanding is fostered by participation in these groups.

AN OPEN LETTER TO CITY COUNCIL CANDIDATES

This letter is directed to the three candidates, whoever they may be, who are successful in winning Daly City council seats at the April 10 election.

It is my fervent hope that the ultimate winners will see fit to again revitalize Daly City's recreation facilities, which have gone virtually neglected for the past 10 years. This is not to imply any criticism on the recreation department and personnel.

Our most important single asset — the youth of our community — are the ones who suffer because recreation facilities have not kept pace with the city's growth.

I would like to point to the fact that there has been no single major improvement in the physical facilities of Daly City's recreation program since completion of the War Memorial Building in 1952.

Our future citizens must have more adequate recreation facilities. Specific action to launch an expansion program for recreation facilities must come from the city council.

I urge every council candidate to give this important phase of our community welfare more than passing thought. I earnestly hope that whoever is successful in the April 10 election will renew interest in this much-neglected field.

Anniversary Set By Mt. St. Joseph's

The 110th anniversary of the founding of Mount St. Joseph's home for girls in San Francisco will be observed Sunday, April 1, with an open house.

Founded in 1952 on the present site of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel, the home has sheltered thousands of orphaned and neglected girls. For many years it has been located at 1700 Newhall street in the Bayview district.

Sister Mary Thomas, D. C., new administrator of Mount St. Joseph's has issued an invitation to the public to tour the three-story brick building that currently houses 110 girls.

Among those expected to attend the open house are more than 400 women, now residing in the Bay area who have been guests at the Mount in their younger years. Grateful for the love and affection shown them by the Daughters of Charity, who conduct the home, many of the women have indicated an eagerness to return for the afternoon.

A board of 30 businessmen assist in operating the Mount. These men provide special field trips, recreational funds, counsel and emergency needs for the guests who range in age from five to 18 years. Nicholas Kavanaugh of San Francisco is chairman of the lay advisory board.

Jewish Welfare Drive Slated For March 25

A doorbell-ringing canvass of San Francisco's neighborhoods will be undertaken on Sunday, March 25, by a corps of volunteers to solicit over 5,000 Jewish families on behalf of the Jewish Welfare Federation's 1962 campaign.

The one-day residential solicitation, which will be under the overall direction of Mrs. Samuel Breger, comes at the peak of the Federation's campaign to raise $2,500,000 for its 34 local, national and overseas beneficiaries.

The $2,500,000 goal, which is 40 per cent more than what was raised last year, is necessary because of the higher operating costs of the Federation's local agencies and the added requirements of increased immigration, Mrs. Breger stated.

"Because of these needs, it is essential to the success of our drive that every Jewish family in San Francisco give over and above what is planed to the Federation campaign," she said. "The lives of thousands and thousands of men, women and children are depending upon our response to their needs."

More than 500 volunteers will be assigned to 15 neighborhood solicitation teams, working under the direction of vice-chairmen. Heading the solicitation team in the Daly City area will be Mrs. Max Wahl, assisted by the following captains: Mrs. William Shaer, Mrs. Joseph Friedman and Mrs. Philip Frucht.

Funds raised by the Federation help the following local agencies: Bureau of Jewish Education, Emanu-El Residence Club, Hebrew Free Loan Association, Hebrew Home for the Aged, Homewood Terrace, Jewish Family Service Agency, Jewish Community Relations Council, Mt. Zion Hospital and Jewish community centers in San Francisco, Marin county and the Peninsula.

The Federation campaign also benefits over half a million people in 25 countries through relief and rehabilitation program, and immigration and resettlement in Israel and other countries. The Federation also allocates funds for national programs in the field of community relations and civil rights, and contributes toward the support of spiritual and welfare programs for Jewish men and women in the armed services.

'Mom's Night' Meet Set By Bethel 26

Local Boy Gets Tuba Scholarship

Aaron Manganiello, tuba playing senior for Westmoor High School's band, recently received a full scholarship for the summer session of the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara.

To become the recipient of this eight-week scholarship, valued at $300, Aaron participated in the all-California High School Symphony Orchestra in Santa Barbara. This outstanding group of talented high school musicians represented a 190 piece orchestra which gave an annual concert in Santa Barbara on Feb. 25.

Bass section of this orchestra consisted of 12 string bass players and two tuba players. In competitive tryouts conducted by Dr. Maurice Faulkner, Aaron placed first in his bass section to become the receiver of the Music Academy's scholarship.

Many opportunities are open to Aaron at the Music Academy. He will have a weekly lesson by a professional musician. His opertic and symphonic instructor will be the famed Irving Beckman from Braunschweig, Germany.

Aaron's brass instructor will be Davis Schuman, while his over-all musical director will be Maurice Abravanel, conductor of the Utah Symphony Orchestra.

Other fields open to Aaron while at the Music Academy will be a course in art interpretation, drama, student master voice, and general voice.

CHURCH EVENTS

Spring Adult Bible Class Starts At W'Lake Lutheran

Pastor Jesse Thompson is beginning a new series of adult Bible study classes on Sunday mornings from 9:45 to 10:45 o'clock in the church at 222 Avalon drive in Daly City.

Sunday school classes meet at the same time and many parents find it very convenient to attend these interesting sessions while the children are in Sunday school.

While studying the Christian doctrines, the Bible, and the background of the Christian church many thought-provok-questions are raised that puzzle the layman. These are thoroughly explained by Pastor Thompson as he conducts the discussions.

The course of study prepares the adult for church membership but many of the members find the review very stimulating and enjoy sitting in on the class after completion.

The course will be completed late in May but special reviews are given to those who miss the first few lessons. For further information, call Pastor Thompson, either at PL 5-5598 or PL 6-4373.

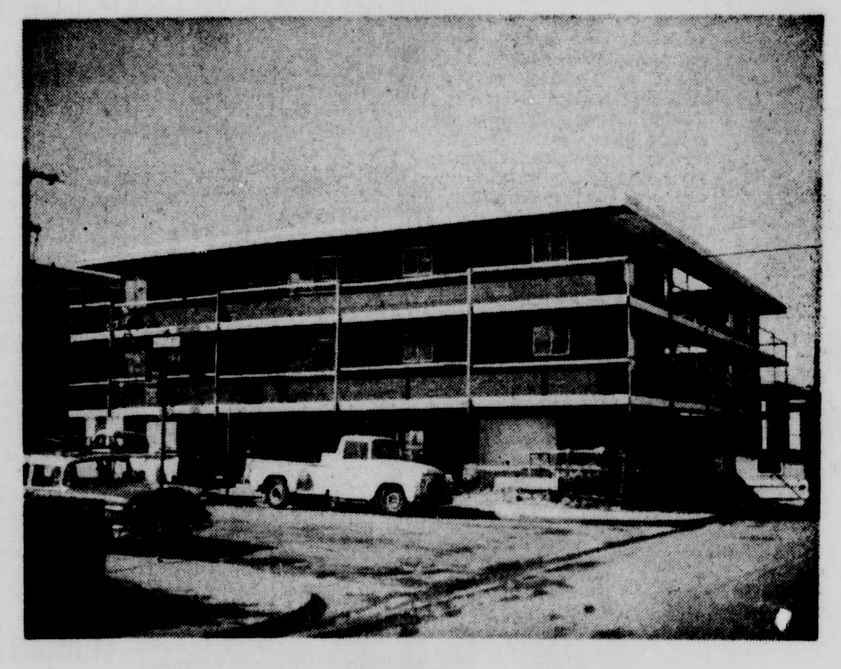
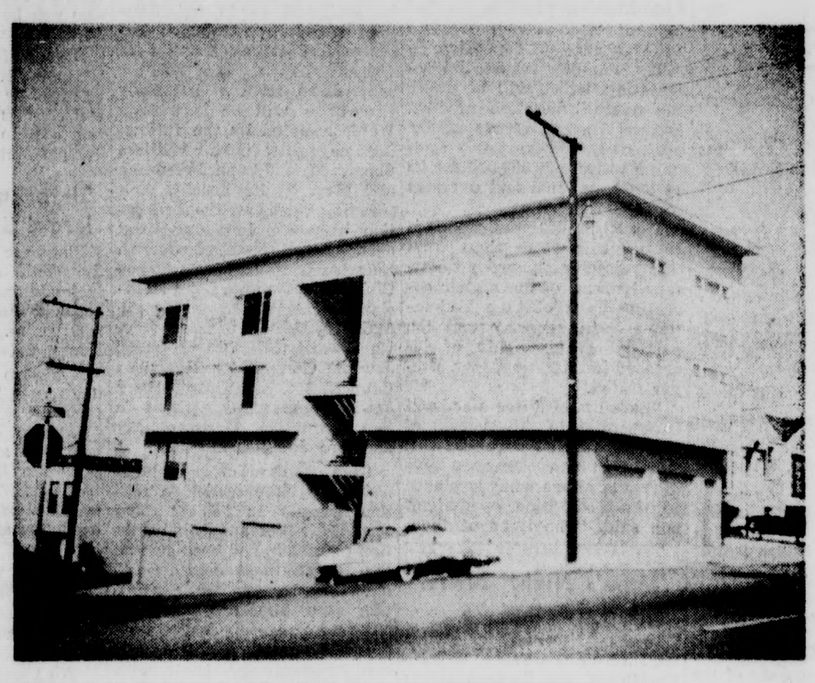
APARTMENT BUILDING UPSURGE IN D. C.



Fourteen-unit apartment at 143 West Market is three-fourths completed. Builder is Joseph Ragni & Sons, Inc.

Six apartment buildings are under construction on Third avenue between Price and Castle streets. Six have already been completed. Owner and contractor is Henry Grambergu.



Recently completed five-unit apartment building at 95 Como, Daly City. Owner is Harry Carusis. Contractor is P. Martire & Son.

Apartments are springing up in Daly City lately as more and more people move into the Bay Area. A total of 182 units in five apartment buildings have been or are being completed.

Maurice Clark, Assistant building inspector for Daly City gave the following reasons for the upsurge of apartment construction.

1. More and more people are moving into the state and don't have the money to finance a home immediately.

2. Daly City is an ideal location for persons who want to live away from San Francisco.

3. Scarcity in the amount of available land and high priced land values make it more practical for builders to put up apartments.

4. Elderly citizens tend lately to move out of older homes and into modern apartments.

5. Apartment building, once under way, sometimes becomes a "fad" to contractors.

WEST MARKET

A 14-unit apartment building at 143 West Market is three-quarters completed. The $98,000 building is being completed by Joseph Ragni and Sons, Inc.

THIRD AVENUE

Twelve apartment buildings of four units each are under way on Third avenue between Price and Castle streets. Six have been completed and six are under construction. Apartments are of four two-bedroom units each and are valued at $35,000 apiece. Owner and contractor is Henry Grambergu.

95 COMO

At 95 Como is a recently completed $42,000 apartment building of five units. Builder was P. Martire and Son. Harry Carrusis is owner.

PARK PLAZA

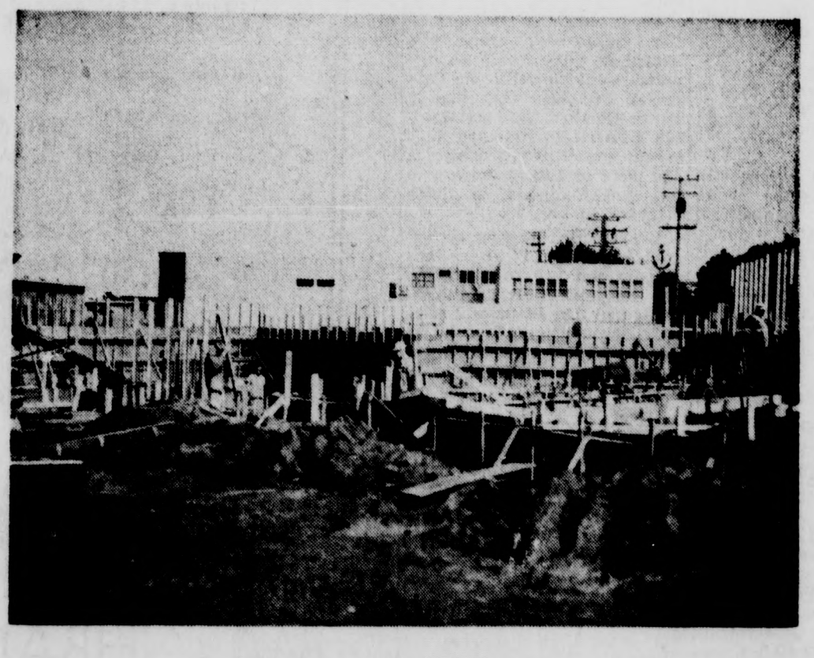
Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., is constructing a 60-unit apartment at 355 Park Plaza drive. The $464,000 building will be 126 by 214 feet in area.

EAST MARKET

In the process of being completed are three apartment buildings for a total of 60 units on East Market between Third and Second avenues. The three-story building is being built by contractor Stanley A. Karatz Ltd. Owner is LeSand Properties Inc.

101 EASTMOOR

McKeon Inc. completed a 51-unit apartment late last year at 101 Eastmoor, at a cost of $340,000. McKeon also plans a 27-unit building of similar construction adjacent to the building.



Sixty-unit apartment under construction by Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., at 355 Park Plaza drive.

Notes From The Schools

Thomas Edison

Art is an integral part of classroom activity at Thomas Edison School. It results either from a directed art composition or project, from an outgrowth of work studied in a specific subject area or from creative experimentation with various art media.

Harmony of color and balancing of design can often produce artistic results in the latter category. Using a glass surface, oil paints, paper and a brayer, Mrs. Nyhan's second graders blended color into designs which could well be the envy of our modern impressionists.

Mr. Holm's fifth graders experimented with colored chalk and liquid starch creating an interesting bulletin board display arranged by Ron Bowerman.

Miss Johnson's fifth grade class used wall paper textures and shapes cut from colored construction paper to achieve a balance of form and color mounted lengthwise similar in style to oriental wall panels. The bulletin board committee consisted of Mike Zetzer, Leah Elfant, Claudette Sherbert, Janice Hickey, Bruce Hudgens and Claudia Crozco.

Conjunctions of art with other subjects are illustrated by Mrs. McMillan's first graders who combined arithmetic, literature and art with a bulletin board entitled: "How the Sillys Are Walking," based on the story of "The Three Sillys." Here is shown groups of two representing arithmetic using imaginative creatures that could be a preview of the Space Age.

Mrs. Rowe's fourth grade artists have a social studies theme represented by a striking mural display of El Camino Real and a plaster of paris scale model mission made by Al Sanchez. Students who helped mission days come alive were Michele Monte, Brian Kuester, Alan Snyder, Clair Ellen Waldeck, Laura Soules, Ellen Freeman, Jim Green, Malcolm Weaver, Kathy McCain, Richard Garcia, Scott Swanson, David Vasquez, Terry Carthy and Thomas Hanson.

Mrs. Walden's fifth-sixth grade students made illustrations to music while the Standard School Broadcast featured a musical portrait of Arizona. Western scenes resulting from this activity were arranged into a colorful display by James White and Greg Chorley. Contributing sketches were: Bill Brown, Kathy O'Shaughnessy, Terry Brandborg, Kathy Kuhlman, Janis Karp, Loren Scanlon, Stephanie Petillo and Walter Orozco.

Science and art were combined in Mr. Jonas' sixth grade class where colored construction paper was used to represent cross sectional layers of the earth's crust. Paul Salinger assisted in the arrangement.

Abraham Lincoln

Twenty-nine third graders of Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, their teacher, Miss Jacqueline Long, and a class mother, Mrs. John Trimble, took an all-day field trip on Thursday, March 8. Their first stop was at the San Mateo County Historical Museum, where the class reviewed the historical developments of the county through the prehistoric exhibits, the Indian occupation, the Mexican period, and the early American settlement.

After a picnic lunch at the yatch harbor on Coyote Point, the class visited the San Mateo Junior Museum on the Baldwin Campus of San Mateo College. Here the point of interest was the exhibits of various kinds of wildlife in the county.

Lincoln Library

Abraham Lincoln Elementary School student library opened its doors on Monday, March 19, with 2,500 books on its shelves. The importance of this event is in the contribution it makes in providing a basis for the modern reading program. Dr. Lloyd Andrews, school principal, in commenting on the library stated:

"The elementary school library carries a liberal collection of fine children's books, both fiction and non-fiction, covering a wide range of interests and varying in reading difficulty."

The present library schedule in operation provides for special use of its facilities for the following grades: Third grades on Mondays; grades four and combination four and five on Wednesdays; and fifth and sixth grades on Fridays.

Thos. Edison Assembly

The 4th, 5th and 6th grade classes of Thomas Edison School held a general assembly on Wednesday, March 14 to listen to a talk given by Mr. George Salinger who had just returned from Washington, D. C. Mr. Salinger had been in Washington to visit his brother, Pierre Salinger, President Kennedy's press secretary. Salinger was introduced by Mr. Jonas, who happens to be the sixth grade teacher of Paul Salinger, the speaker's son.

Salinger told the children about his visits with, not only his brother, but the president and vice president. His personal anecdotes brought the children close to their president and their government.

In conjunction with this assembly, athletic awards were presented by Principal Harry Aronson to the following team captains representing their championship teams:

Marlene Turpin from Mrs. Sherin's fourth grade Chargers, girls' netball.

Gary Willer from Mrs. Burchard's fourth grade Flintstones, boys' basketball.

Claudia Orozco from Miss Johnson's fifth grade Vikings, girls' volleyball.

Sidney Smith from Mr. Holm's fifth grade Savages, boys' basketball.

Patsy Smith and David Burdick from Mr. Jonas' sixth grade girls' volleyball and boys' basketball.

Fernando Rivera

On March 7, the fifth and sixth grades and fourth grade representatives of Fernando Rivera School had the opportunity to hear Jack Kendree, manager of the Westlake Shopping Center, explain the development of the shopping site.

Kendree reminded the children that Westlake developer, Henry Doelger, had much home construction experience before the beginning of Westlake in 1947. Doelger had been in the construction business since 1926.

The pupils were reminded of the many necessities that must be worked out before the actual construction begins. Actual plans for streets, lighting, sewage, and block layouts were shown to the boys and girls. Kendree left sample building materials for further study.

After the first homes were built, the need for certain kinds of stores to serve the community were pointed out. Schools and churches were not forgotten.

The speaker pointed out that a major part of success is to have all the facts before you start.

Michael Caldarola, student body president, introduced the speaker and presided over the assembly.

Avalon PTA To Host County Disaster Head

Avalon PTA will meet this Thursday, March 22, at 8 p.m. in the Avalon multi-purpose room. Following a short business meeting, guest speaker Howard Hoops, assistant director of disaster of San Mateo County, will speak on being prepared for a disaster, and what plans are made in the event of a disaster in San Mateo County.

The Avalon glee club, under the direction of Miss Barbara Stein, will entertain. Brownie Troop 490, under leader Mrs. Emma Jones, will present the flag.

Mrs. Louis Alcorta, PTA president, has announced a special meeting will be called for April 3 at 8 p. m. The public is invited to hear a representative from the South San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce outline the master sketch plan for South San Francisco "from now to 1990."

Irish Treat

In celebration of the wearing of the green, Mrs. Barbara Russell's second grade class of Abraham Lincoln Elementary School presented a musical play "Mac Namara's Band" on Friday,, March 16. The boys in the class wore jaunty black top hats displaying the shamrock on the crown, and the girls donned demure green bonnets.

Dennis Banks, leader of the band and master of ceremonies, enthusiastically swung the baton and introduced the musical numbers.

After a rendition of "Mac Namara's Band," the musicians played an Irish jig while two colleens, Janice Davidson and Anne Kraemer tapped and whirled. The Harrigan Girls, represented by Karen McVeigh, Patty Allen, Jeanne Hampton, Diane Koolpe, Kelli Braden, Linda Gurtner, Teri Loscutoff and Mary Hunt sang "Harrigan" with whirling flip cards.

"When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," sung by the entire class and the audience, concluded the St. Patrick's day performance.

Westmoor Seniors Seek Aid

Westmoor High School seniors Paul Boudreau, Andrus Peerand, Darwin Hennings and Richard Hunter have recently been designated semi-finalists for state scholarships.

Qualifying through their scores on the scholarship aptitude test of the College Entrance Examination Board, these semi-finalists will go through further screening based on their high school transcripts. These boys took the S.A.T. either on Dec. 2, 1961, or on Jan. 13, 1962. Before the test they made arrangements for admission to an accredited college or university in the State of California.

This year, 3,840 state scholarships, including about 2,000 to new winners, will be awarded by the scholarship commission of the State of California. The final winners will be announced on April 19.

The amount of the award varies according to the school to be attended. For instance, awards from $300 to $900 will be presented in $100 intervals for independent colleges.

Awards for public colleges will be in the amount of the fees charged. Scholarships of $150 to the University of California and $100 to state colleges are to be granted. Sums will cover tuition and fees but not room and board, books or living expenses.

Chris Columbus PTA Has Ice Cream Sale

The Christopher Columbus PTA is happy to announce that the weekly ice cream sale has been a great success. Thanks to all who were so kind as to donate their time so freely.

A candy sale will be held at the April and May PTA meetings. Tins of colored candy mints will be available at the regular meeting at $1 per tin. Your help in making this candy sale a success will be appre-

Ben Franklin School Science Fair Winners

The first annual Science Fair at Benjamin Franklin Intermediate School closed Friday, March 9. Almost two hundred projects were entered and judged. These were on display for a week in the multi-purpose and music rooms of the school.

The projects were first shown at the PTA meeting on the evening of March 6, where they were judged and winners announced for the seventh and eighth grades. Both individual and group projects were judged separately.

Individual winners were: Gabrielle Whitney, seventh grade, for her model display of the solar system according to an approximate scale of size and distances; and Jeff Thomas eighth grade, for his project demonstrating the life cycle of the shrimp.

Winners in the group projects: Ed Finley and Milo Wood, seventh grade, for their pictorial and model representation of Project Mohole, an underwater drilling operation; and for the eighth grade: Ricky Freibusch and John Tuttle for their demonstration of the process of desaltation of sea water. Other winners were as follows:

Seventh Grade: 2nd place-Tie: Steve Wiard and Richard Thill. 3rd place—Stephen Douglas. Honorable Mention:—Tie: Brand Menary and Nathan Kaufman.

Eighth Grade: 2nd place—Robert McPherson. 3rd place—Robert Baumhefner. Honorable Mention—Tom Olsen and Vonda Crouse.

Winners in the group projects were as follows:

Seventh Grade — 2nd place: Bruce Baum and George Perry 3rd place: Cathy Hopson and Rhonda Kravitz. Honorable Mention: Lynn St. Clair and Diane Swedberg.

Eight Grade — 2nd place: Larry Carilli and Graig Castro 3rd place: Anita Capps, Kathy McBain and Marsha Williams. Honorable Mention: Wendy Morrison and Peggy Hunter.

During the week, most of the classes at Benjamin Franklin as well as several classes from Westlake School, visited the display. According to Mr. Herbst, principal at Benjamin Franklin, the fair was judged an outstanding success with the possibility of a science fair being planned for the next school year.

Supt. Foster To Address PTA

All parents are cordially invited to attend the March 21 meeting of the CCPTA, to be held in the multi-purpose room at 8 p. m.

In addition to the regular business meeting, there will be an election of officers, with nominations being accepted from the floor.

The guest speaker will be Richard Foster, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District. His topic, "The School's Goal for Our Children," will be of great interest to all parents.

A question and answer period will be held at the conclusion of Foster's talk.

Mrs. Guymon's fourth and fifth grade, Miss Marr's fourth grade, and Miss O'Rourke's third grade classes will help with the refreshments.

Bower birds are found only in Australia and New Guinea.

OFFICIAL REPORT

FROM U. S. TESTING COMPANY ON 1962

CHEVROLET, FORD AND PLYMOUTH.

U. S. Testing Company recently tested the 1962 Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth in 10 competitive events at the Riverside course in California. Here, for anyone who might buy a car soon, are official results of this "Showdown at Riverside."

Plymouth recently asked the U. S. Testing Company—an independent organization—to conduct a decathlon to measure the 1962 Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth for all-around performance.

U. S. Testing Company bought the three test cars—Chevrolet Impala V-8, Ford Galaxie "500" V-8 and Plymouth Fury V-8, comparably equipped. They hired the professional drivers. They supplied all the officials. They made the rules. And they also enforced the rules.

You see the Official Results shown here in the box. Plymouth won eight events. Ford won one. And Chevrolet won one. Drive a 1962 Plymouth yourself. It's the Greatest Plymouth Ever Built.

Group Formed To Boost Reelection Of Incumbents

A group of Daly City citizens representing every segment of the community and including civic, fraternal and business leaders, was formed this week to work for the re-election of Incumbent City Councilmen Micheal De Bernardi, Edward J. Dennis and Robert B. St. Clair.

Formed independently of the individual candidates' own campaign organizations, the new group is called "The Daly City Committee of 5000." Co-chairmen of the organization are John B. Drye, Lowell E. Durham and Edward R. O'Donnell.

Speaking for the committee, Drye pointed out that the organization was formed completely independently of the individual candidates who are running their campaigns on their own merits.

SMILING PRETTY with hopes that Daly City residents will buy their cookies are Girl Scouts (from left) Laura Hess, Cherie Ansaldo and Margherite Harris. The drive will run from March 23 until April 9.

Girl Scouts Ready Annual Cookie Sale

Girl Scouts of the Daly City-Colma district will start selling their famous cookies on March 23 and will continue doing so until April 9.

Why do Girl Scouts sell cookies every year? Because they need the money to pay operating expenses and bills to the tune of $25,000 for 1962. The money alloted by the United Crusade to the Girl Scout Council of San Mateo County is not sufficient, so the cookie sale helps make up the difference.

The proceeds earned will help pay on the Camp Sonora mortgage, pay for maintenance and repairs on three camps—Camp Butano, Camp Two Sentinels, and Camp Sonora; train more leaders and personnel, keep in business for another year, and help the Girl Scouts to prepare for the future. Their future is important.

The Girl Scout cookies are from Mother's Cake and Cookie Company. They sell for only 50 cents per box. This year's tasty flavors are chocolate mints, sandwich creams and danish mix.

The Girl Scouts will be in uniforms. The young Brownies will sell only to immediate relatives and neighbors. The older Girl Scouts will sell house to house and in various places of business. The activity will have adult supervision.

R. E. Kraus of Daly City is produce sales chairman for the San Mateo County Council. Mrs. Mil Kraus, his wife, is district chairman for the Girl Scouts.

So, buy cookies when the Girl Scouts come to your door.

FOR BETTER BAILING

When your boat takes on water from a slow leak or from rain, don't scrape off the floor paint by using an old tin can for bailing.

Get yourself a paper milk carton, advises the National Automobile Club, and slice off the top. One such carton will last throughout the season and there will be no more scratching paint from the floor of your boat.

Sailor Robbed, Left Bleeding

A sailor was found bleeding on Skyline boulevard March 18. He said two girls and their male companion jumped him and took his wallet containing $7 following an all-night "joy ride."

The youth, Virgil L. Nickell, stationed at Treasure Island, was treated by the Daly City fire department and rushed to Letterman Hospital with what was thought to be gunshot wounds to forehead and rear scalp. Police figured later he was hit by a board with a nail in it.

Nickell told San Francisco police he was walking down Market street in San Francisco after attending a dance when the two girls offered him a ride back to his base. They drove to Playland at the Beach, Cliff House and back down town before he was "ambushed" in Daly City, he told police.

Hearing Set On New Hwy

On Thursday, April 5, a public hearing has been scheduled regarding the location for new State Highway 229, between Sweeney Ridge, west of Skyline boulevard, and Bayshore Freeway in San Mateo County. Results of the studies which have been under way since the announcement meeting of Oct. 31, 1960, will be presented at the hearing.

The hearing will begin at 2 p. m. in the Council Chambers of the San Bruno City Hall, 567 El Camino Real. Local officials, residents and interested individuals are invited to be present at the hearing.

The remaining portion of Route 229 from State Sign Route 1 to Sweeney Ridge is now under study and location of this portion will be considered at a later hearing.

During the current fad, the Gurley-Lord firm, working through the parochial schools and PTA groups, have given away more than 5,000 yo-yos—a nice gesture and one which all the children enjoyed immensely.—Photo by Charles Blagdon.

Blind Students Learn Along With Classmates

"I like to have my picture taken and I like you because it didn't have that quick flash of light."

A blind student at Christopher Columbus School in Daly City wrote these words. She used a braille typewriter.

Nine children are enrolled in the school and receive special schooling because of blindness. The children all reside in northern San Mateo County.

They work in regular classrooms, and also with resource teacher Mrs. Hortense Sundman who teaches beginning braille and typing skills and aids other classroom teachers in planning and provision of materials.

Slate Writing

The Children are Debra Chandler, first grade; Robert Guillory, third grade; Susan Kane, fifth grade; Bernadette Kuhlmann, third grade; Michele Sattui, third grade; William Swartfager, second grade; Chris Tromberg, fifth grade; Kenneth Wickham, fifth grade and Kathleen Kneass, fifth grade.

Seven are braille students. Two have partial vision, but not enough to use print in their work. Their homes are in Burlingame, Pacifica and Millbrae. Two students are from Daly City.

The blind students learn slate writing at the fifth grade level.

"They do a nice job of typing," said Mrs. Sundman. They have to be accurate in the beginning."

Not Limited

Mrs. Sundman continued: "In working with them we try to use as many actual objects as we can. Dolls represent children in the stories which they read. They learn likenesses and differences."

"We try to provide something in each area to compensate for lack of sight."

The students use counting blocks and pegs. Braille numbers are on their clocks. Dots outline U.S. Maps. Rulers have raised lines.

Mrs. Sundman said a blind student is not limited intellectually and can go on to become a lawer or psychologist.

"I have one boy who methodically figures things out. I'd like to see him become a scientist," she said.

They Get Around

Blind youngsters know their way around Christopher Columbus School, usually within two weeks after they arrive. At first, another student may go with him, but "after two weeks you'll find they are getting along very well."

Fifth grade students get along in regular classrooms without any special help, following braille in their textbooks.

Shelving for blind classroom materials requires plenty of space. A World Book Encyclopedia in braille requires over 130 volumes for one book of print.

A pocket dictionary would take seven volumes. This "pocket" dictionary for the blind is kept on a trolly car to be taken from one room to another.

Finding Books

Blind children are adept at finding their own books in the school library, turning books in and making out cards. The state provides textbooks in braille, Mrs. Sundman said, but supplementary books must be provided by the school district.

A braillist each day makes up work sheets and work books for the blind students. These books are not available in the primary grades.

Some of the students are making a report on "famous people of the Civil War period." They give reports orally or typed in braille and they are transcribed into print.

Employment Of Youth Is Critical Issue

by Sally Stein

Mrs. Foriest Cunningham, 17th District president, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, attended the State Board of Managers meeting held at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles last Wednesday and Thursday to discuss the educational and occupational project recently undertaken.

One of the most critical issues of the present time, according to Mrs. Culbertson, state president, is the need to further opportunities for the employment of youth—those who drop out of high school.

Young people need the help of parents and school counselors to provide helpful information about appropriate educational and vocational goals. It has been a long-standing project of PTA to point up this need. The current employment situation usually requires at least a high school diploma or special training in vocational skills.

An educational and occupational planning project was undertaken by the CCPT in cooperation with the State Department of Employment, as well as with the State Department of Education, Guidance and Counseling personnel. The committee report was heard at the state board meeting.

This study has revealed the need for more accurate information about the rapidly changing types of work in industry, and the wide range of occupational chaices available today in technical, professional and labor fields.

Parents should recognize that there can be excellence in all human endeavors, stated Mrs. Culbertson, and parents need to appreciate the worth and dignity of any job well done. Young people can be stimulated to realize that they should develop their maximum potentialities wherever their talents lie."

It Is Best When The Weather Is Right

WITH A SLIGHT INTERIM for basketball, football season has now moved into baseball. The athletes are lolling away in the Florida sun and the Arizona heat trying to make reluctant muscles ready for 163 games of what Braves manager Birdie Tebbetts called last week the most demanding of all sports.

Whether it is that, I don't know. I do know, however, that baseball and football are the most unique that this country has to offer, and despite the growing popularity of golf, bowling and go-cart driving, they not only have maintained their place of eminence, but in recent years have solidified it.

This little etude is about WHY.

* * * *

IN SAN FRANCISCO, for obvious reasons, it is difficult to capture some of the FEELING for baseball that goes on in a place like Brooklyn, Pittsburgh or St. Louis. The game is part of the weather in those hamlets. It begins with the morning, the first crack of dawn that lets you know you're awake, and it's Saturday and today you're going to Forbes Field or Busch Stadium.

Back there it's the best way to spend a Saturday. Whether the morning comes slow and bright with no humidity and you know there will be no rain or cloud heaviness, or whether it comes darker but just as hot and you think of those warm-rain days that you have gone out before and sat while the players fired the ball around during infield practice with the air full of slams of ball into mitt, and the shrill whistling and short, quick movements of the players.

The warm, bright days are the best though. When the morning lets you know and the good eggs and bacon take you closer and you study the sports page to know that Bob Friend is going against Larry Jackson and you drink about three too many cups of coffee so when you leave you're well fed and nervous.

Baseball is all morning. Even though the game starts at one, it's a morning sport because back there in July the sun stays up late and everything is pushed back, morning 'til three and night 'til nine.

I CAN REMEMBER CLIMBING the ramp to the second tier at Forbes Field and suddenly been off the ramp and out there where I could see and everything is green. The pitchers are warming up, sleeveless because today it is hot, around the infield shoots the ball, and everyone is up andready for this game, because last night, Friday night, the Cards came in and won it and now they're tied for first place.

The pitchers start the game by mowing them down, but you sit and wait because it won't go on and the long flies that are being shot out and hauled in after long long runs when the outfielder and ball and wall all come together suddenly are sharper and harder and the runner digs in and can get two or maybe three out of it.

The game can be all you care about on a good day —a duel, a war, a personal involvement that is right because it is clean and hard, understandable and has an end.

The weather for it isn't right around here and only would be if they started the games at 10:30 a.m. which they should.

* * * *

FOOTBALL IS AFTERNOON.

The distinction makes all the difference. There is never heaviness for football. It is crisp.

I was in Oklahoma and in the morning during autumn it was cold. The sun would come up and be bright and cause everything to cast shadows, but it would never get too high and never really warm anything. It would glare, and made you feel good because it was there, not because it was really doing anything.

We would play football from about 10:30 till noon. There was a long row of houses where I lived that stretched almost the length of a block, each house with a big lawn that at this time of the year was hard when you ran and dangerous for ankles.

Everywhere there were leaves and sometimes you would go down in them and lay there for a minute sniffing the musty leaf smell that comes when the dry ones trap the wet ones underneath.

Then at noon we would knock off, and everybody would head home to shower and get dressed for the big game This was Norman and November and cold. Sweater weather yes, but on top of the sweater you needed a sports jackets and overcoat and maybe gloves and a muffler or a hat.

The half-mile walk to Owens Stadium set everybody. A fast four or five mile an hour pace with lots of glove-clapping and foot-stomping, and I used to take that cold clean air and bring it into the lungs and keep drawing to that point just before the lungs are filled when there's a little catch (like in running when the second wind is just popping in), and then they're filled completely and you let it out and the shoulders drop.

Coming into the field view in a football stadium brings a different feeling than in baseball. The baseball picture slams home and your brain is filled with all different motions going different ways and the shrill whe-e-e-e-o-o, wheet of the infielders.

The football picture isn't individual but like gears. A big collapsible 60 inch ruler and each foot section is bending a different way but is all together. A team as it runs through warm-up plays always comes together like on rubber-bands, and it moves like the wheels on a locomotive.

* * * *

BASEBALL IS SLAM AND WHISTLE; football is crack and thud. The quarterback barks and the team cracks sharply into the other and the halfbacks stretch out rubber band around the flanks for gains and then snap back.

And all the time it is cold and dry and clear if it is right, and you can sit up high and yell and know that outside it is good autumn and the ground is hard and covered with leaves from the trees.

Weather creates moods. A rainy day, a chilly day, a bright day, a muggy day—each has its effect on the nerve endings.

When the right combinations come together—good weather, good feeling, good contest—sport, regardless of the traffic problem, can be the most exciting thing in the world.

KC Basketball Tourney Set For War Memorial

The third annual Knights of Columbus invitational basketball tournament sponsored by Marian Council of Daly City will be held on Saturday afternoon, March 24, in the Daly City War Memorial Community Center gymnasium.

Robert C. Simon, tournament chairman, announced that invitations have been extended to Holy Angels, Colma; Our Lady of Mercy and Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Daly City, and to St. Thomas More, San Francisco, to send a representtive eight grade boys team from the parish to participate in this year's tournament.

Simon revealed that this year an all-star team will be selected to play the Riordan freshmen on Saturday, March 31, at 2:30 p. m. and that a trophy will be presented to the boy considered by the judges to be the "most valuable player."

At noon, an exhibition game between Marian Council and Our Lady of Perpetual Help's teen club will start the action for the tourney. The Knights will be looking for revenge after suffering a humiliating defeat last year from Holy Angels Teen Club.

The elimination games of the tournament will commence at 1 p. m. this year to allow time for the players to complete the various high school entrance examinations and still participate in the tournament.

Presentation of awards will take place immediately following the final game of the meet and the all-star team will be selected to face the Riordan freshman team on March 31 will be revealed.

The public is cordially invited to attend all games of the tournament free of charge.

Rams Run Into Rain

The Westmoor baseball club after dropping three practice games ran into rain last week and didn't play at all. Friday the Rams try to get back into action when they travel to Burlingame.

Meanwhile coach Rod Losberger has run into trouble without even playing a game. First he lost his second baseman, Al Contreras, to the measles, and then his catcher Steve Payette on eligibility.

Nick Krnich, a freshman, has moved up to take on the varsity catching chores. He will team up with Dave Williams to give the Rams an all freshman battery.

As the March 30 opener with Aragon approaches, Losberger has lined up six pitchers to bear the brunt of the mound chores. The first three are Harry Brown, Tim Pinelli and Dave Williams. Going behind them will be Mike Daubin, Tito Torres and Steve Funai.

Sports Auction Set March 24

More than 100 items, including confiscated rifles, shotguns, some fishing gear, several spotlights, outboard motors, a boat and even an illegally used cross bow will be auctioned to the public Saturday, March 24, at the National Guard Armory in San Francisco, the California Department of Fish and Game has announced. The auction will open at 10 a. m.

Pre-auction inspection of all items can be made at the Armory on Friday, March 23, from noon until 9 p. m.

Catalogues describing each item may be obtained at the Armory during the pre-sale inspection, or by writing the Department of Fish and Game, Room 3000, Ferry building, San Francisco. A legal-sized, stamped, self-addressed envelope must accompany written requests.

The guns and other gear were taken from fish and game law violators and must be sold at public auction to the highest bidders, under provision of the state fish and game code.

The items are offered the public on a strictly "as is" basis, the department emphasized. The state does not warrant or guaranteed the condition of any auctioned item.

Terms are cash only, and 4 per cent sales tax will be charged. No checks will be accepted.

Proceeds from the auction are put in the state's fish and game preservation fund. The last auction in the San Francisco area, held in March, 1958, realized over $3,200 for 128 items.

SM Fails To Place In Tourney

The Peninsula League champion San Mateo Bearcats failed to place in the Peninsula basketball tournament held last weekend at Stanford. The North County entry lost in the first round to Campbell, 70-57, and again in consolation bracket to Los Altos, 44-42.

But, despite their poor showing, All-Peninsula League selection Bob Griggs made the all-tourney team. Griggs set a new tournament record for two games as he scored a total of 54 points—28 on Thursday against Campbell, and 26 on Friday against Los Altos.

Ravenswood won the championship by defeating St. Elizabeth, 60-58, in five overtimes. It was a well-earned victory for Tom Crane's South Peninsula League champs, and they had no sooner won than they challenged McClymonds of Oakland, Tournament of Champions winner, to a game for the basketball championship of northern California.

San Mateo, in suffering the two defeats, was hampered by the inability of anyone but Griggs to score. The other eight members of the team could score only 45 points compared with his one-man effort of 54. In the final game, he outscored his teammates, 26-16, to almost win the game single-handed.

Ravenswood placed two men on the all-tourney team, Milky Johnson and Nate Branch. Others named were: Kevin Hardy, Pat Furlong and Tom Hansen of St. Elizabeth; Jeff Goodere of Campbell; Tim Goss of Los Altos; Bob Stuckey of Gilroy; Eric Paulson of Sunnyvale, and Griggs.

BYA Defeats Holy Angels For 2nd Win

BYA Skyline Plaza Merchants defeated Holy Angels on Saturday, March 17, 15-4, for the team's second win in a row.

Ricky Smith allowed only two hits during his five innings on the mound for the winners. He got credit for the win.

Batting stars for BYA were Corky Phelps, Jim Duport, Rich Berry, Reggie Baumgardner and Ricky Smith.

Indians Lose 2 But Score 1st Season Tallies

The horsehiders from Jefferson lost two more practice games last week, but at least managed to push some runs across for the first time this season.

In last Thursday's encounter with St. Ignatius at Marchbanks Field, the Indians could put together only three singles as they lost to the SI nine, 5-2.

The Indians only tallies came in the fourth inning when outfielder Darwin Haanen singled across Pryor Bailey and Bob Miller. Bailey opened the frame with a single, went to second as Miller walked, and when Haanen's belt to left field got through the left fielder, both runners crossed the plate. The ball was retrieved in time to get Haanen trying for three.

Shortstop Dave Nathan got the Indians' only other safety, a single in the third.

MISSION

On Friday, ten hits and nine runs by the San Francisco team eased Mission to a 9-6 win.

Jefferson left 13 men on base. Until the fifth inning when the Indians pushed four runs across, they had loaded the bases in the second, third and fourth frames with only two runs resulting.

Then starting the fifth, with Mission leading, 7-2, Jefferson started to rally. Pitcher Carl Carpenter started things by walking. Dave Nathan and Mike Morton followed with walks to load the bases for the fourth straight inning. Only this time the runs scored. Mike Rovai singled across two, and then Rich Reitz unloaded his second double of the game for two more.

That narrowed it to 7-6, but two more Mission runs in the last of the sixth put it away.

The Indians' single tally in the third came on a single by Morton, an error and the first of Reitz' doubles. In the fourth, a walk to Carpenter, an error, two wild pitches and Morton's second single scored the second run.

Two more practice games, Sequoia and Riordan, and Jefferson will be ready for the Peninsula League opener on March 30. Thus far, the Indians are 0-5, but according to coach Steve Mezzara, "we always start slow."

Snow Program Set April 13 At Squaw Valley

Chalet Placid No. 1, Olympic Village Hotel, Squaw Valley State Park, will be the address and home for the San Mateo County severely handicapped children participating in the snow program made possible from funds provided by the basketball night held March 10 at Hillsdale High School.

Featured during the week's stay, beginning April 13, will be an Easter egg hunt sponsored by the hotel. Miss Easter Bunny, Jennifer Berg of San Mateo High School, will make sure that all the children get Easter eggs.

Following the hunt will be a fireplace program and recrecreation in the crafts areas. The children will see movies and be treated to a weiner roast. There will also be some skiing, hiking, fishing and dance instruction.

The trip was made possible through the combined efforts of Peninsula basketball teams, coaches, high school principals and basketball queens who participated in the basketball benefit at Hillsdale that resulted in more than $400 being raised.

GREETING THE BASEBALL season with what the Irish call the "American shillelagh," were two Irish lassies who guested at Alec's "Gathering of the Clan" St. Patrick's Day party last Saturday in Colma. Paddy Hayes (left) and Pat Ryan (right) look a bit perplexed about precisely what to do with the shillelagh as host Alec Land demonstrates his pitching technique. The two misses are hostesses on Irish International Airlines, and were visitors to San Francisco on the Irish's most glorious day.

It's SPARE TIME at Westlake Bowl

By Jim Grealish

The closing date for the Westlake championship has been extended to April 1 so that all Westlake league bowlers may have an opportunity to compete for the title, trophy and cash prizes offered in both the men's and women's divisions. Early leaders were Fred Von Husen with 885 for five games, and Sharon Sylvester with a four-game total of 785. The top 25 per cent of the qualifiers move into the semi-final round on April 7 and 8. Qualifying squads are scheduled after the 9 p. m. leagues each night and 4 p. m. Saturdays and 3 p. m. Sundays.

Ernie Anselmo "took a rest" in the middle game but made a gallant recovery in his third game to lead the National Masters 900 Scratch League with a 621 series and a high game of 225. Jim McGuirk started with a big 244 game then "coasted" to a 600 series. Other high rollers were George Colclough with 608 and Rich Brewer with 601.

With the Twelfth Naval District tournament coming up at Westlake next month, Commander Frank Pfirrman is starting to find the range. Last week he led the Golden Gate Handicap with a 211 game and 574 series.

Once again it has been proven that good bowlers can be good golfers. Mike Del Campo of the Spun Steak team in the 99'ers league joinedwith partner Stan Spizer to take th Best Ball championship at the Crystal Springs Golf Club. Reports are that the trophy is ten feet tall.

The new Liebes store in Westlake will sponsor next Monday morning's YW Wives class in "Spring Wardrobe Planning" at the Bowl. Reservations may be made by calling PL 6-7370.

The magic number in the Ladies 785 Scratch League was 232 as Trudy Green and Luella Brown tied for high game honors with Luella claiming the high series with a great 594 effort.

Records are short-lived in the Standard Oil Men's League. Last week new leaders took over in both high game and George Kroncke's 234 game was a new high while Joe Kawakami had a 584 three-game total to lead in that department.

Leading ladies last week were Evelyn Babbitt of the Evening Stars with 160 and 471, Neats Borreani of the Tuesday Handicap with 175 and 466, Lil Jolly in the Southgate Mixed Fives with 188 and 460, Gladys Wehr in the Happy Mixed Fives with 167 and 472, Arlene Keough in the Daly City Employees with 162 and 434, Peg Brown in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives with 189 and 501, and Maureen Cano in the 99'ers Mixed League with 209 and 529.

Al Ertassi was last seen trying to borrow a pin in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives as he came up with a terrific series, falling one pin short of the 600 mark on a high game of 211.

John Mattson was a repeat leader in the American Masters 900 Scratch League as he registered a 630 series on games of 184-233-213. Closely following John were Clem Morales with 608 and Mario Smare and Ron Anguillo with 603.

It looks like the "Italian Express" is starting to roll toward the state tournament in Santa Barbara. Engineer Jim De Mattei started it off on the right track with a 209 game and 584 series in the 825 Scratch League last week.

In last week's match games between the A-1 Nursery Men's and Ladies' Leagues, the team of Donna Ravetti, Betty Crowley, Gene King and Barney Komenda took first place by only a few pins over the team of Flo Dillon, Bette Levesque, Tom Dillon and Dick Menzies. Tom Dillon was high roller for the day with a 214 game and 531 series while Betty Crowley and Pat Garcia were the leading ladies with 182 games and 476 series.

Phyllis Brown had plenty of two's in the Broadmoor American Legion League — a 222 game last week. Lefty Girardot led the men for the second week in a row with 217 and 545.

Another high game record was set, this time in the Westlake Classic when Al Palmer registered a 278 first game, followed by 192 and 184 for a 654 series.

Reservations are coming in fast for the various summer leagues which will be starting during the next month. Rick or Primo will be happy to supply any information.

Bowling in the St. Emydius League, Beryle McGrath rolled high game of 164. Terry Warde had high series with 459 and just missed her triplicate award with games of 151-154-154.

High game in the Roly Rollers League was shared by Laura Gomez at 181 and Jo Berton. Jo also had high series with her 482.

Indians Swim To Win

The Jefferson swimming team, going with a talented crew comprised mostly of sophomores and juniors, won its first league meet of the season last Thursday with a 57-38 victory over Burlingame. The meet was the PL opener.

The "B" team lost, 55-28, and the Cees triumphed, 48-9.

Sophomore Ron Morris set two school records as he splashed to wins in the 400 yard free-style and the 200 yard individual medley. Winning time in the 400 freestyle was 5:20.2. Medley time was 2:38.7.

Another school record went to Ken Kaleike as he took first in the 100 yard backstroke with a fast 1:09.3.

The Jeff swimmers face two tough tests this week when they meet San Mateo and Hillsdale. The Hillsdale meet is set for Thursday at 3:15 in the Indians' pool.

Championships Held At Franklin

In the seventh grade championship basketball game, Rm. 35 beat Rm. 18 by a score of 20-19 in a game that changed hands at least 10 times. The halftime score was a 10-all tie and it was anyone's game until the final buzzer. Nick Budea led the winners with 7 points and little Johnny Gray, probably the smallest player on the court, led the losers with 9 points.

In the eighth grade championship game, the Tigers from Rm. 27 overwhelmed the smaller Packers from Room 16 by a score of 54-37. The Tigers led at the first quarter, 10-2, and were never headed from that point. Ross Davis led the winners with 21 points, followed by Louis Miller and Charles Phelps with 12 and 11 points, respectively. For the losers, Craig Hughes was high with 17 points.

In the seventh grade playoff for second place, Rm. 17 beat Rm. 45 by a score of 17-14. In the eighth grade, the Giants beat the Lions by a score of 28-21 for second place.

In the Recreation-sponsored bowling league held on Tuesdays, there have been many outstanding scores. For the girls, Janice Riney has bowled a 222 game and high for the boys, George White, with a 212 game.

The Benjamin Franklin recreation volleyball team is hosting an eighth grade team from Parkside School in San Bruno on Thursday, March 22, in the multi-use room. All spectators are welcome.

REDUCES FATIGUE TOO

Keeping the eyes focused on the right edge of the road when passing another car at night not only reduces the effects of the glare but also is a considerable factor in diminishing fatigue, points out the National Automobile Club. A long night drive will be much less tiring if the eyes are shown this much consideration.

Westmoor Trails In PL Relays

Westmoor High School's 1962 track season opened on a sad note in Friday's PL Relays at Hillsdale.

It was the usual story as Westmoor showed flashes of brilliance but very litle depth, as San Mateo swept all three divisions.

Senior Dennis Chase set a school record in vaulting 12 feet 7 inches. The old record was 12-4 established by Chase in 1960.

Chase will combine with high jumper, Jim Lucke, sprinter Roy Pinelli, and shot putter Gary Allard, all school record holders, in the Ram's challenge for league honors this year. Westmoor was co-champion in 1959, and finished second in 1960 and 1961.
